FOREWORD

The Kentucky Constitution requires each house of the General Assembly to keep a journal as a public accounting of daily legislative activity. It is the official record of action by the General Assembly.

The Kentucky Revised Statutes require the Legislative Research Commission to compare, edit, correct, and publish the journals of each chamber. This is the House Journal for the Regular Session of 1998.

The texts of simple and concurrent resolutions appear on first reading or adoption. Appendices contain a list of elected representatives, tables of actions on bills and resolutions, roll call votes, the budget memorandum, and a subject index.

Ms. Linda Attkisson and Ms. Gene Wallace prepared the House Journal for the 1998 Regular Session. The edited copy and appendices in this volume reflect the cooperative efforts of the LRC Staff.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY

REGULAR SESSION 1998

TUESDAY, JANUARY 6, 1998

FIRST LEGISLATIVE DAY

At a General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, held at the Old Capitol in the City of Frankfort, and begun on January 6, 1998, the two hundredth and sixth year of the Commonwealth, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution, Speaker Jody Richards assumed the Chair and called the House to Order.

Prayer by Reverend David Hilton, First United Methodist Church, Frankfort.

The Speaker led the members in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Wayne Cusick, accompanied by Hollis Rosenstein, performed the state song "My Old Kentucky Home".

The Speaker announced that the membership was the same as in the 1997 Second Extraordinary Session with the exception of a vacancy existing in the 28th District.

The roll was called. All members present except Representative Heleringer.

Representative Ballard moved that the absent member be granted leave of absence in accordance with the rules of the House. Agreed.

Representative Barrows moved the nomination of the following Constitutional officers to serve until December 31, 1998:

Chief Clerk, Evelyn Marston; Assistant Clerk, Julie Wheat; Enrolling Clerk, Margaret Watts;

Sergeant at Arms, Emmett A. Slattery; Chief Doorkeeper, William E. Davis; Cloakroom Keeper, Aubrey Morris;

Representative Barrows moved that the nominations cease and that the Constitutional Officers be elected by acclamation. Agreed.

The oath of office was administered to the Constitutional Officers by the Honorable Robert F. Stephens, Chief Justice, Supreme Court.

The Speaker addressed the General Assembly as follows: The first Kentucky General Assembly began the long struggles of this century here under this dome in this historic capitol building and today as the old millennium draws to a close, it is only proper and fitting that we return here to pay tribute to the past and to lay plans for the future. Just as our forefathers who occupied these seats ten decades ago, we stand here today poised on the dawn of a new era, preparing to cross a new threshold of opportunity. In a sense, many of the tasks we face are very similar. In other ways they are vastly different. The past century has witnessed unparalleled progress in the Commonwealth. It has seen the transformation of this state into the global economic and technological competitor that it is today. It has witnessed the development of world class system of public education and the evolution of the General Assembly into a potent and prolific architect of public policy. Across the board, in all categories, Kentucky and Kentuckians are prospering as never before. Government is functioning more efficiently and is more responsive than at any time in the past. The vision of the spirits that haunt this hall has come to fruition, thanks to you and those who came before you, men and women empowered by the courage of their convictions, people willing to sacrifice of their time and talents to assume the yoke of public service and public responsibility, men and women who dared to make a difference. Over the next few minutes you will hear a great deal about the expansive scope of change in Kentucky. Our three speakers will help us to understand just where we've been in this state and give us a better understanding of where we hope we are going. The challenges of the next century are many and varied. The road to the future always is unclear. Let them say of us a hundred years from now that we approached that path with the same pioneer spirit, with the same undaunted determination as the noble men and women of the distant past and not so distant past. Let them say that through our values and prudence and compromise, we too achieved. We too succeeded in understanding and overcoming the trials of our times. We too prevailed on behalf of the future generation. I look forward to working with each of you over the next three months and, again, I thank and commend you for your dedication.

Our first speaker today is a very well known and very revered Kentuckian. Dr. Thomas Clark's strong devotion to preserving and chronicling Kentucky's rich heritage and traditions has earned him a very prominent place of his own in that history to which he has dedicated his life's work. The descendent of southern pioneer stock, a distinguished and revered scholar, statesman and author, Dr. Clark has done more to foster respect and understanding of the Commonwealth's history than perhaps any other single individual. The credits to his name are endless. The credentials and dedication he brings to his position as state historian are truly without peer. Dr. Clark joins us today to talk about life in Kentucky around the time the General Assembly convened for the first time this century. Ladies and gentlemen, please join me in welcoming Dr. Thomas Clark, the State Historian.

Mr. Speaker, members of the House of Representatives, ladies and gentlemen. I'm very happy to be here at this moment, this time at the turn of the century. Many times I have come into this building. I think I started coming into this building before most of you were born. I've tried to imagine the scene in this room, the debates that took place, the kind of legislation that was passed, the progress that was made and the mistakes that were made. The year 1898 was a cardinal year. I was very much interested when I was invited to make remarks on what happened in this year and around this year.

In 1898, Kentucky was in a distinctly transitional period in its history. The transition might have been made entirely differently, the image of this state might have been an entirely more glowing one had it not had three bills introduced in this House, in this room. Two of them became law. The third one was indicative of the condition of the times. I could stand here for all of my time and more, discussing one of those laws and the impact it had upon the course of history in this Commonwealth. The election law, or the Goebel election law, to regulate elections which was an iron-willed, premeditated casting of a political die that never should have been cast in Kentucky. That will go down as one of the cardinal moments, a mistake-making in the course of the history of this Commonwealth. The second one was to have less impact, the McCord Railroad Bill, which was in fact a reworking of a previous bit of legislation. As the turn of history, as the turn of the wheel of fortune took place, these things were to have an enormous impact. A third bill struck at one of the problems which had beset this Commonwealth, and that was the management of the sale of text books and the political influence exerted up on the passage of legislation in this state by the book companies, aimed principally at the American Book Company in Cincinnati. Kentucky was paying from 15 to 30 percent more for its text books than any other state in the union at that time.

I have just gone through the administrative journals, the executive journals, through a great deal of the paper that was generated at the time. Some amazing things turned up. I not only want to take myself to task, but I want to take my fellow historians to task. I am strongly of the opinion that we haven't done much more than scratch the surface of the really fundamental basics of history events that had such cardinal influence, such cardinal bearing upon this state.

I have mentioned the passage of the legislation, in this house, in this room, reverberating still loudly in the annals of history. I want to turn back to some of the problems that the state faced. Somewhere, somehow, in one governor's report after another, there was emphasis on the fact that this state had to solve its educational problem. It had to institute a system of education adequate to the promises and the hopes and the aspirations of the future. Education was a major problem; education is a major problem now; education is an open ended problem in an organized society.

The state was in upheaval in another area that was of vast importance to the region. The toll gate war had occurred. There had come an end of an era when the General Assembly and the people of the Commonwealth had undertaken to escape the burden of taxation for the establishment of a system of highways, the breaking of the barriers of isolation that permitted people free access to markets, to intercourse of all sorts across this state.

A third problem that resounded and it resounds in the publication of every newspaper that has come out in the last century was a matter of violence. You cannot imagine the kind of problem that prevailed. There was this nameless, almost unidentified group that set seeds to this state and when this General Assembly, when this House of Representatives met in this chamber in 1898, there was militia guards around the place insuring the safety of the legislative body of this Commonwealth. Violence was rampant and in Governor Bradley's journal, there was those orders to the Adjutant General of this state to come here to put down violence surrounding this building and also to put down violence all across the state. There was that matter of carrying concealed weapons over and over and over in the Journals. There was that matter of the Governor remitting those convictions, a $25 fine and 10 days in jail, which was a standard sentence. You would be surprised how many of the citizens were caught up in that net.

There were many other issues that had to be resolved. One of them was the matter of the use of the resources of this state. Believe it or not there appeared an issue that keeps showing it's head in a timid way in the matter of the management, the control of the logging industry, the control of the forest industry in this state.

Finally, without prolonging this discussion, there was a three way conflict. Kentucky was trying to shakedown after adopting the new constitution. It was trying to set a new course, a new legislative, a new constitutional, a new statutory course into the future. But you came, at the end of the old brigadier period, when John Young Brown, Jr. left the Governor's office a sad man, a man who was threatened with all kinds of domestic family problems as well as political ones. There were three strong contending political groups. There were the two democratic parties split over the national issue, of the old populist question, over the coinage question. There was a very interesting veto in the Bradley Journal concerning the matter of gold versus silver that was a burning issue in this Commonwealth. And then there was the election of a republican governor in which you had open conflict. Page after page after page in the executive journal is devoted to vetoing the legislation passed by the Kentucky General Assembly. Kentucky was at loggerheads with itself. You almost read nowhere a promise, a plan, a moment of looking forward to the transition into a new century, because there was so many immediate problems which had to be solved, so many immediate problems which had to be dealt with.

I have looked back, I've lived through most of this century so far. I've looked back over this long and winding road like the great yellow road in the Wizard of Oz. It has been a road of many turns, many crooks, and many straight-aways, of many advances, meeting many challenges. As we stand here in 1998 looking back over a hundred years in a chamber where so much was done, legislation was adopted that had such a deep impress upon the future of the Commonwealth. We stand on a pinnacle of a far brighter future. We are going into a transitional period which can be a glorious one, glorious one, indeed, compared by any standards, but certainly compared to what transpired in this Commonwealth in 1898. I hope I live long enough to go into the 21st century to see us make this transition, see us use the wisdom and the foresight. But let us turn back and examine the annals of history of that cardinal decade, 1890 to 1898. Those were our formative years, formative years that still have a very definite bearing. The constitution that you serve under was being drafted, being put in place, being adjusted in that decade. All sorts of issues troubled this state. Some of them have come down, some of them are as pertinent today as they were a hundred years ago.

I hope you godspeed in the opening; there is always a tone of excitement in the opening of a session of a new General Assembly. But it is quite fitting that you come to this room. I hope you come to this room in a spirit of repentance. I hope you come to this room with a new perspective that you meet a challenge far brighter going into a new century than your confreres went into this century. Thank you.

The Speaker introduced Dr. Lowell Harrison who addressed the Assembly as follows.

Mr. Speaker, members of the House of Representatives who are meeting in the last regular session of the General Assembly in the 1900s, honored guests:

In his second annual message to Congress in December 1862 President Abraham Lincoln said, "Fellow Citizens, we cannot escape history." It would be difficult to escape history in this chamber, because for the better par of a century these walls witnessed some of the most important events in the history of the Commonwealth.

After two permanent capitols burned, a brilliant young architect, Gideon Shryock, designed the Greek Revival structure in which we are meeting. From then until today, his improbable stairs have attracted attention and some disbelief. Construction cost $85,000, a sum so large that some apprehensive Kentuckians feared it would drive the state into bankruptcy. A local newspaper on December 8, 1819 called it "the most magnificent edifice which has been erected in the western world." This chamber was called "a splendid apartment."

This building house the legislature until January, 1910 when the New Capitol was occupied. This Old Capitol was used for various purposes until 1920 when it was turned over to the Kentucky Historical Society. Carefully restored in the 1970s, what you see now is much what you would have seen had you been here in the 1850s.

During the years that this building was the home of the General Assembly, this hall witnessed some stirring events and provided a forum for many notable legislators. Cassius Marcellus Clay, a slave holding emancipationist, served a term before his antislavery views made him an outcast. One of Kentucky's most colorful figures, Clay once announced that he would no longer accept challenges to duels; they were taking up too much of his time. Instead, he would go armed and would respond immediately to challenges. The knife was his favorite weapon, and he even wrote a pamphlet on knife fighting. (The secret was to strike upwards and then twist the knife.) John J. Crittenden, who tried to find a compromise that would avert the Civil War, was a distinguished member of this House for several terms, including 1829 when this hall was first occupied by the House. Robert Perkins Letcher may have been the best fiddler ever to serve in this House of Representatives. "Black Bob" played his fiddle during political campaigns to draw off an opponent's audience. The list of notable members of the House could be extended, on and on.

Of the 26 governors who serviced within this period, 17 have been members of the House. Of the remaining nine, three had served in the state Senate and one in the U. S. House of Representatives. Both governors of the Confederate government of Kentucky had been members of this House before the Civil War.

This chamber hosted the constitutional conventions of 1849 and 1890. Kentuckians of the 19th century were less fearful of conventions than Kentuckians of the 20th century.

In the last century this hall was often used for party conventions. That practice became a Civil War casualty on February 17, 1863 when the House refused to let the State Rights Party use this room. When they tried to meet in the Metropolitan Hall, Colonel E. L. Gilbert surrounded that building with his Ohio troops and informed the delegates that he would not allow disloyal sentiments to be expressed or disloyal candidates to run for office.

One of the most dramatic moments in the history of this hall came in October, 1862. Confederate Generals Braxton Bragg and Kirby Smith had invaded Kentucky at different points. The state government fled to Louisville before Kirby Smith captured Frankfort; it was poised to cross the Ohio if necessary. Frankfort had the distinction of being the only state capital captured by the Confederacy during the war. The Confederates planned to install Governor Richard Hawes, a former member of the House, in the governorship, then use the Confederate conscription law to get Kentuckians in the Confederate army to use the 20,000 rifles Bragg had brought with him in his wagon train. On a damp October 4, 1862 pro-confederates packed this hall and the rest of the building with many standing outside. General Bragg promised to hold Kentucky for the confederacy, and Governor Hawes delivered a lengthy address in which he explained how and why the Confederate Government of Kentucky had been formed. He promised to hold a convention as soon as possible to reshape this government. But federal troops were within artillery range of the town, and plans for an elaborate evening banquet had to be abandoned. That afternoon Hawes and his colleagues departed Frankfort in dignified haste. After the battle of Perryville, they resumed their exiled status.

This hall was also involved in the aftermath of the William Goebel assassination. Goebel, one of Kentucky's most controversial political figures, was shot in front of this building on January 30, 1900. He died on February 3, and Kentucky came dangerously close to civil war. Republican Governor W William Taylor adjourned the General Assembly and called for it to meet a week later in London. Troops allowed members of the General Assembly to enter their respective chambers only to retrieve personal belongings. Armed troops prevented the democratic members from meeting in the Opera House or courthouse, but they slipped into the Capitol Hotel at night and declared Goebel elected governor. Armed partisans poured into the city; only a spark was needed to touch off a frightful conflict. Somehow, that spark was avoided. The Democratic majority met in Louisville; the Republican minority met in London. When the General Assembly reconvened in Frankfort on February 19, separate party meetings were conducted simultaneously in each chamber. Two journals were kept in this House. An agreement was finally reached to let the courts deal wilt the troubled issues.

Yes, this hall has witnessed some stirring moments.

You members of the House of Representatives are politicians or you would not be here. That term often carries a derogatory implication. In "King Lear" Shakespeare refers to a "scurvy politician," and even harsher terms are common. This perception perhaps explains why one of my students once defined "A plurality election as an election in which one candidate gets a majority of the votes and his opponent gets more votes than he did." Then he added thoughtfully: "This is most likely to happen in Kentucky."

The perception is unfortunate, for political parties and politicians have important roles in our democratic system of representative government. They provided voters with information and a choice between parties and candidates, they provide a means of finding compromises. They do not always work perfectly. I believe it was Winston Churchill who once described the difference between a monarchy and a democracy. A monarchy, he said, was like a great merchant ship that sails serenely over the seas until at last it strikes a reef and goes down. A democracy is like a raft; it never sinks, but, dammit, your feet are always wet.

I suspect that your average constituent praises and respects you but regrets that you are associated with that body of rascals in Frankfort. That perception of this House and the Senate is something that you need to try to change.

You and the legislators who will follow you into the next century and the next millennium, will be confronted by a host of problems that demand solutions. Health care, health insurance, the state's economy, tobacco and its growers, the environment, roads, crime and prisons, pig farms, etc. The list grows and grows as new problems appear.

But I think that education will be your major problem most of the time. We are beginning to realize that education may be the bet answer, perhaps the only answer, to many of our problems. We must see education as a continuous process, one that almost literally extends from womb to tomb. It is incredibly complex. How can we measure progress to see if progress has been made? Let me add a word of caution; don't fall into the trap of thinking that technology is education. Technology is a very useful tool, but by itself it does not produce an educated person.

You will not be able to deal with a problem such as education and then put it aside as solved. Suppose that Kentucky succeeds in bringing university salaries up to the average of the benchmark institutions against which Kentucky is measured. But by then the benchmark institutions will have made additional progress. As legislators, you will find yourself in the position of a person who is walking up a down escalator. Stop walking up for just a moment and you start losing ground. Many of your problems are perpetual.

But you will also sometimes be presented with opportunities. Much of the future of Kentucky will be determined by your response to such moments. Too much of our history tells of opportunities ignored or dealt with only partially. For example, the General Assemblies of 1906 and 1908 made great improvements in education. But then we relaxed as if the work was all done. An in this decade we are again trying to copy with our most important problem. A window of opportunity appears to be opening before us now; it is your responsibility to take advantage of it.

You are members of a party, you are politicians, you will play politics. But I trust that if the time comes when this Commonwealth is confronted by a major crisis, you will remember the state motto and act accordingly. In the meantime, try to keep your feet as dry as possible.

Representative Stumbo introduced several eastern Kentucky legislators and made the following comments:

Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, it gives me great privilege to address this body today in this very historic moment of our assembly. As I told you to begin with, a vision is not really the physical ability to see, it's the mental ability to imagine and dream. As witnessed by a great Kentuckian and a dear friend of mine, Ed Pritchard, who lost his physical ability to see but never lost his vision of a better and brighter future for Kentucky's children. Mark Twain once said that he wants to be in Kentucky at the end of time because we do everything here 20 years late. Sometimes that is not untrue.

But before we can see into the future, and truly appreciate our vision of the next century, let's examine some of the failures of our past. Unfortunately in this century we've squandered the wealth of our resources, by and large. We failed to adequately protect our environment. We don't have water free flowing and clear and able to drink for every Kentuckian. Daniel Boone's own beloved Kentucky River is almost a sewage pot because of lack of adequate disposal systems in many of our counties. We allowed for ninety years an unfair and unconstitutional education system to educate our young. We failed to use all of our resources wisely and to the betterment of all of our citizens, such as our windfall and the lottery. Many of you may not want to hear this report card and in all fairness, we have made some progress. It kind of reminds me though of my nephew Wesley who went to Sunday School the other day and came home. I asked him what the teacher had taught him and he said she taught him about the time that Moses led the Hebrew nation out of Egypt and I said well what did she teach you and he said well, Uncle Greg, he said, you know, Moses went to the Pharaoh and asked for free travel out of Egypt and the Pharaoh granted that, and Moses led the Hebrew people into the desert. As they were about half way through the desert they noticed a large dust cloud on the horizon and they knew what that meant, that the Pharaoh had broken his word and had unleashed the chariots. The chariots were coming forward and were going to attack them and they were unarmed, unable to defend themselves. So he said they rushed forward and ran into the Red Sea. I said, "What happened then, Wesley." He said, "Well, Moses got on the walkie talkie and he called up the CB's and they came and build a bridge across the Red Sea and he led all the Hebrew nation across the Red Sea safely." I said, "What happened then." He said, "Well, when the Pharaoh's chariots got there they started across that bridge and Moses got back on the radio, called up the air command and they did an air strike, blew up the bridge, killed all of the Pharaoh's army and the Hebrews proceeded safely." I said, "Wesley, did your Sunday School teacher tell you that story that way." He said, "No Uncle Greg, but if I told you what she told me you wouldn't believe it."

But even though we have made mistakes in this century, we who are the captains and stewards of this ship of state of the commonwealth have a chance to correct her, to right some of the wrong. We have what most people don't get, a second chance. We have in this session, the ability to start, to correct some of the problems and to continue to alleviate some of the problems that we have. Let's look to see what we could do.

If we look at the example of the western states, we see that in the early 1800's and through the middle of that century they were mined out. They lost a great deal of their mineral resources. Their towns became ghost towns. Their population became starved because they had squandered the natural wealth of their mineral resources and not planned for the future. I challenge this General Assembly to begin looking at what is going to happen in the next century when Kentucky's natural resources are gone, when our coal and our many large natural gas supplies are diminished. I challenge us to look to our western states who have established now reserve trust funds where part of the money from their severance taxes go into that trust fund so that when those resources are depleted, that their budgets will not suffer and their people will not suffer. I think it's time that we look at that concept in realistic terms.

Our goal should be to initiate, fund and carry through with programs that allow our counties to lay water lines and provide clear, safe drinking water to every Kentuckian, and we ought to set a time table; we ought to say that should be done within ten years, Mr. Speaker, within ten years. Every Kentuckian ought to be able to have fresh clean drinking water.

We ought to join people like Congressman Hal Rogers and others in his Pride Campaign to clean up Kentucky. We ought to promote community efforts to clean up our natural beauties like the Cumberland Falls, and we ought to be stalwarts of that effort to make sure that our rivers and our waters are clean for the next generation. We ought to require something that's been debated in this session for a number of years; we ought to require a bottle bill and we ought to do it now. I read in the paper this morning, gentleman from Estill, where a group of your students wanted to promote that bill. Well I'm going to sponsor that bill for them. I'm going to sponsor that bill because it's important to me, it's important to them and it's important to Kentucky. It's a statement that we can send out during this session to say we are going to promote a clean environment for our citizens as a goal for the next century.

Last but not least, as Dr. Clark and Dr. Harrison eluded to, we should continue our commitment to educational excellence for all of our children. All of our children, what does that mean? It means that we must not abandon the efforts that have already been made. It doesn't mean that we already have a perfect system. The technology part of the Kentucky Educational Reform Act unfortunately has failed miserably, and we should rededicate ourselves, as the gentlemen from Fleming knows, to reestablishing and putting that system in place so that our children, no matter where they live, whether they live in Clay County or Fayette County or Paducah, wherever, that they'll become computer literate. If they can't use the power of those machines, they will be functionally illiterate in the next century and so I call upon this General Assembly as we begin to renew our commitment to technology in our educational system. Let's reexamine our priorities. I'm not against Empower Kentucky, but I'm for empower Kentucky's children before I'm for Empower Kentucky and I think we should reexamine our spending priorities in that regard, and if we need to establish a completely new department for technology in this state at all levels, elementary, secondary and post-secondary education, to coordinate those efforts and bring technology to all our children, not only at the elementary and secondary level, but across the state in the post-secondary educational level. It's a shame that a child on Pond Creek in Pike County can't get access to a four year public institution without driving four hours, while a child in Fayette County has access to three publicly funded four year institutions within a 35 or 40 minute drive of their home.

And last, but not least, Mr. Speaker, I would call upon this General Assembly to set the tone for the next century by reinvesting in another sacred resource. That resource we sometimes overlook or sometimes even in the past we've had an occasion to look down on, and that's the citizens that are most vulnerable in our society. We will not be judged by how fast and how high the stock market rose or how much the barons of business contributed to their bottom line. We will be judged as a society by how much effort we put in helping our most vulnerable citizens, the blacks, the poor, the old, the uneducated, the untrained, our farmers who rest on the verge of uneconomic prices because of what may happen with the tobacco program, our workers who aren't trained and able to meet the demands of the 21st century, our coal miners, who don't even have a remedy at law now. We must rededicate and rethink government's role in their lives. Government, government exists by the will of the people for all of the people and those of us who are fortunate enough to serve at the will of the people, ought to always be mindful that we do so for all of the people, even though sometimes their voices aren't heard, we should see their faces. We should know their problems and we should try to make their lives better and if we do that, and if we can make an effort to start the next century in that regard, I truly think that it will be a bright one for Kentucky.

Mr. Speaker I'll end with a story. It seems that at the great research institution, the University of Kentucky, Dr. Clark, that they performed a very interesting research project. They took two little children, one who had displayed the characteristics of a pessimist and one who had displayed the characteristics of an optimist, and the child psychologist at the University of Kentucky wanted to see what would happen if you placed them in a different environment. So they took the child with the very pessimistic viewpoint and placed him in a room full of brand new toys, everything you could imagine, and they took the child that had the optimistic viewpoint and put him in a room full of horse manure, and after about four hours, they came back and they opened the door and there sat the child who had the pessimistic attitude crying in the middle of the room. He had broken every toy. They wondered what happened. They opened the door to the little boy who was in the room full of horse manure, and there he sat with the shovel digging as hard as he could. One of the professors looked at him, "What are you doing?" He said, "Professor, there's bound to be a pony in here somewhere." Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, thank you and God bless you.

STATE OF THE COMMONWEALTH

BY GOVERNOR PAUL E. PATTON

TUESDAY, JANUARY 6, 1998 - 7:00 p.m.

Speaker Richards, President Saunders and members of the General Assembly, Justice Stephens and members of the Judiciary, Governor Henry and other members of the Executive, my fellow Kentuckians.

The General Assembly has today convened in regular session to consider the state of the Commonwealth and to adopt changes in our public policies which it deems to be prudent in our continuing quest to promote the common welfare.

I'm here tonight to report to you my view of the state of the Commonwealth and to outline for the people in the broad sense, the course I think we should chart for the new millennium.

Overall, the state of the Commonwealth is good. As our nation enjoys peace and prosperity, so do we in Kentucky, perhaps in even greater measure than our fellow Americans.

Kentucky's experiencing an economic expansion which has continued uninterrupted for 14 years.

Our population's growing, reversing the brain drain of the eighties when many of our best and brightest left the state in pursuit of economic opportunity.

Our unemployment rate is 4.5%, the lowest it's been in more than 20 years. We're creating basic jobs faster than the nation as a whole. In fact, we're fourth among the states in the number of manufacturing jobs gained during the nineties. By almost any measure of economic progress, we rank in the top ten in the country. The output of our farms, factories and mines has continued to fuel our economy and create a better life for our people.

And we're accomplishing this in a safer environment. The number of workplace injuries and illnesses last year was the lowest it's been in ten years. Fewer Kentuckians have lost their lives in fires this past year than in any year since records have been kept. And I'm particularly pleased to learn that our coal mines have had their safest year in history. Only five miners died in Kentucky last year. Now, that's still five too many, but compare that to 1970 when 89 miners lost their lives in Kentucky and you can see that we're making progress.

The first and most fundamental responsibility of government is to protect the lives of its citizens. Your Kentucky State Government's doing that.

Yes, the state of the Commonwealth is good and it's our responsibility to continue to invest in those policies and programs which have improved the safety and welfare of our citizens and sustain the progress that we enjoy in the Commonwealth today. The details of those policies and programs are what we'll be debating during these next three months.

As we consider the hundreds of proposals which'll be offered during this session, we must remember that the three fundamental functions of our government are; to protect our people and their property, improve our infrastructure, and educate our children.

Yes, our children. Not only are they the object of our affection, the reason we work from daylight to dark, the joy that makes life worth living, they're our future, the people who'll build the Kentucky of tomorrow, the ones we will depend on when we're old.

Let us measure every proposal by its effect on them. Let us conduct ourselves as if our child was watching our every move. Abraham Lincoln summarized the role of the children of our society as well as any person could. Let me quote the president. "A child is a person who is going to carry on what you have started. . . sit where you are sitting, and when you are gone, attend to those things which you think are important. You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they are carried out depends on him. He will assume control of your cities, states, and nation. . . The fate of humanity is in his hands."

A hundred and thirty years ago President Lincoln understood how important our children are to the future. Let us dedicate ourselves and this session to the children of Kentucky!!!

I understand that there're several Frankfort-area elementary school students in the Chamber. There they are, up there.

They're here to learn how to lead Kentucky when they're adults. Let's give them a hand.

But for now they're children. Together, let us build for them a Kentucky where they can grow up in safety, get a quality education, raise their families, have unlimited economic opportunities and enjoy a quality of life second to none. Let us make them proud, proud of what we do here, and proud to be a Kentuckian!!!

As we approach a new millenium, Kentucky faces a crossroads, much as we did a hundred years ago. Then, our leaders failed us and our parents paid the price. We paid, and our children will continue to pay, for the lack of vision and courage in our leaders a hundred years ago. Let the same not be said of us a hundred years from now.

There was a time when we let logging and mining despoil our environment. There was a time when thousands of Kentuckians were killed or maimed as they labored to support their families. And there was a time when we didn't appreciate the value of an education. The fundamental cause of our economic and social problems today, is our neglect of education during the past century.

It's not always been that way in Kentucky. Two hundred years ago we were a leader; a leader in medicine, religion, transportation, and political influence. We were also a leader in education.

Yes, if we're going to properly serve our people, we must have a clean environment, safe communities and effective educational programs.

We must be ever vigilant in our effort to preserve our environment. There're lots of things that are unique about Kentucky and one of them is the beauty of the rural parts of the Commonwealth. In fact, that's the most common first response I get when I'm introduced to new people as I travel the world on behalf of Kentucky. "Oh, it's such a beautiful state" is a recurring response. If we're going to continue to enjoy the unique beauty which is Kentucky, then we're going to have to continue to regulate polluting activities, protect our forests, and preserve our wildlife.

This better Kentucky I speak of must have safe streets and communities. We must not tolerate those individuals who threaten our property and our very lives because they have no respect for our laws!!!

We must address our criminal justice system, and I don't mean just build more prisons. We must also make our courts more efficient, our punishments more relevant and our police officers better paid!!!

If we're going to reduce criminal behavior by adults, we have to start with our children. Our prisons are full of adults that we failed when they were children. We must take our juvenile justice system from among the worst in the nation to among the best. We must have a system to treat our children, not just warehouse them. We must give our judges more tools to treat children on a case-by-case basis, we must have effective in-community treatment programs, and we must start the treatment after the first crime, not after the first murder!!!

We may have some adults who are so far gone that prison is the only way to protect ourselves from 'em, but I refuse to give up on our kids!!!

We must not only make our communities safe from pollution and crime, we must make our people feel safe. No matter what else you may have, if you feel insecure, then you can't enjoy life.

And we must make our homes safe. If you can't feel safe in your home, where can you feel safe? And yet domestic violence and child abuse are making some of our homes a living hell for many adults and, yes, for all too many of our children. Parents who abuse their children aren't fit to be parents and any male who would hit a women is not worthy to be called a man!!!

We must drive home one message, violence is not the answer!!!

Yes, we have challenges, but we also have opportunities. If we're going to build a new Kentucky for a new millenium, we must invest in our communities: roads, water, sewer, and recreational, cultural and entertainment facilities. And there's never been a better time to invest. Not only do we have a substantial one-time cash surplus developing, we'll probably never find interest rates lower, or Kentucky's credit higher. Yes, well developed communities are essential to our economic and social progress.

But most of all we must continue to invest in the education of our children. As important as education has been in the past, it'll be doubly important in the future.

Eight years ago, in its finest hour, this legislature moved Kentucky from the back to the front in elementary and secondary education improvement in America. It made Kentucky the leader, in developing a new education system to serve our nation in a new millenium. While the time has come to make improvements which time and experience have made apparent, this is no time to retreat and we will not retreat!!!, We'll continue to improve!!!

Less than a year ago we made a similar commitment to postsecondary education, and the time has now come to fulfill the commitments made in May. We will live up to those commitments, too!!!.

Not only must we ensure that our institutions of postsecondary education serve the needs of our people and businesses, we must also ensure that every Kentuckian can afford a postsecondary education. The time has now come for Kentucky to begin a major new initiative, to help the students of Kentucky and their parents pay the cost of a postsecondary education!!!

Today, our society needs to have all our people educated to a higher level, a level which will more specifically prepare them for today's world of work. If we're going to maximize participation, we must not only make postsecondary education more accessible, we must also make it more affordable!!!

The willingness to address this issue will be the litmus test of our commitment to a new future for Kentucky.

Yes, there're many issues for us to address during these next three months. I've alluded to several of them and there are many more - like safe schools, teachers salaries, benefits for laid-off workers, and of course, health care insurance.

Yes, the challenges of these next three months are formidable and the resources are very limited. Frugal administration and sound fiscal policy is going to result in a substantial cash surplus at the end of this fiscal year. Not only will we be able to refund over $250 million in taxes improperly collected from Kentuckians in past years, we'll also be able to increase our reserve for emergencies and still invest tens of millions of dollars of cash in basic infrastructure. But I must caution you, that recurring revenue to continue existing programs or start new ones will be extremely limited. Our strong economy would've created substantial increases in revenue but during these four years of our administration, we're reducing or eliminating six taxes, an overall General Fund tax cut of over 4%, a return of almost 300 million dollars a year to you, the taxpayer, that you can spend on your family. This is the largest tax cut in the history of the Commonwealth and we can all take credit for it!!!

Kentuckians deserved this relief but, as Lloyd Hall used to say, "You have to take the bone with the pork chop." The net result of these tax cuts is a revenue growth next year of only 4.1%. With 3% inflation, a 4% increase in elementary and secondary education, and a hundred million new dollars already committed to postsecondary education, any new programs must be paid for by reducing the cost of existing programs. We'll be proposing new expenditures, but this budget will not be without pain.

We need to work together, to make the best use of the taxpayer's money, and that's what I've been trying to do as I've kept you informed about the finances of the state and asked for your suggestions.

Many of you've told me that you've had more input into this budget than ever before and I'm glad, because you know best the needs of the people and we want to propose a budget that meets those needs as best we can with limited resources. We're considering all your requests as we prepare the budget. We obviously won't be able to accommodate all of 'em but we will try to be fair. I'll be talking to you in detail about the budget in a couple of weeks, but I hope I've given you and the people of Kentucky a brief overview of some of the things that budget proposal will contain.

I think I've met with every legislator who's requested a meeting to discuss the budget or other policy issues. It may've been at seven o'clock in the morning or eleven o'clock at night but my door's been open to you and that'll continue to be the case throughout this session. Your work will be my entire focus during these next three months.

As we get fully engaged in the serious debates that are about to begin, I invite you to discuss with us your opinions, even if you disagree with us - especially if you disagree with us. You may change our minds, or we may change yours, or we may continue to disagree, but at least we'll have a better understanding of each other's positions.

The time has now come to work together. I call on all of us; me, my cabinet secretaries, all of you, to approach this session without regard to politics and without regard to political considerations even though I fully recognize that we're working in a political arena.

I think I've demonstrated that I intend to be a strong leader of my party and I expect the leaders of the Republican Party to be the same. I recognize that our two-party system is an integral and very important part of our democratic system of government and partisanship has its place but this legislative session is not one of them!!!

I think I've demonstrated my willingness and ability to work with Republicans, in this legislature, in my cabinet, in the business community, and in local government. I'm prepared to continue this very positive relationship.

Most issues we'll face in this session shouldn't be partisan. The education of our children, shouldn't be partisan. Crime in our streets, shouldn't be partisan. The health of our people, shouldn't be partisan.

It's my intention to work with all members of this General Assembly on an equal and non-partisan basis, facing each issue on its merits. I call on all of you to do the same. Let us forget personalities. Let us forget past conflicts and battles. Let us put aside political aspirations and let us refrain from partisan demagoguery!!!

Over these past two years, we've gotten to know each other much better. I and my administration are better prepared to do our jobs; we've learned from our mistakes. We've proven ourselves to be honest and reliable. We may not have always been right , but we've always tried to do what's right as we saw it at the time. I feel the same way about you.

I think the people expect us to work together, even if we can't always agree. In my judgment the people will hold each of us responsible for any attempt to take political advantage of the work we'll be doing here in Frankfort during the next three months. I commit to you that I won't do that.

In conclusion, let me say that I understand and accept the fact that you, the General Assembly, have the last word. That's your responsibility. It's my responsibility to establish the starting point for many of these important issues we'll be addressing. I expect to be actively engaged in all of the important debates during this session. I expect to win some and lose some. But most of all, I expect us together to make all Kentucky a winner!!!

We didn't come here to be spectators. We came here to participate and to act. What we do in this session will affect our people for a hundred years. What we fail to do could haunt us even longer.

These last two years have been the most enjoyable and productive of my life. Every success our administration has enjoyed, has been made possible by this General Assembly. I think our greatest success has been the cooperative relationship we've built, based on equality and mutual respect. I look forward to continuing to work with you in that same spirit of cooperation and mutual respect during these next three months.

A friend of mine once said, "We have three choices in life. We can make things happen, we can watch things happen, or we can wonder what happened."

I came here to make things happen. I know you did too. If we work together in common cause, forgetting ego and political gain, we can make a difference in the lives of all Kentuckians. That's what the people of Kentucky expect; that's what our children deserve, and we should deliver no less!!!

Good night and God bless you.

HB 62, AN ACT relating to elections and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 116.055 is amended to read as follows:

Before a person shall be qualified to vote in a primary election, he shall possess all the qualifications required of voters in a regular election. In addition, he shall be a registered member of the party in whose primary election he seeks to vote, and shall have been registered as a member of that party on December 31 immediately preceding the primary[~~at the time of the preceding regular~~] election, or, in the case of new registrations made after December 31 immediately preceding the primary election, he shall[~~not involving a change of political affiliation made after the preceding regular election,~~] have registered and remained registered as a member of that party. No person shall be allowed to vote for any party candidates or slates of candidates other than that of the party of which he is a registered member. The qualifications shall be determined as of the date of the primary, without regard to the qualifications or disqualifications as they may exist at the succeeding regular election, except that minors seventeen (17) years of age who will become eighteen (18) years of age on or before the day of the regular election shall be entitled to vote in the primary if otherwise qualified. However, any registered voter, whether registered as a member of a party or as an independent, shall be qualified to vote in primary elections for candidates listed in all nonpartisan races. Any voter eligible to vote in a primary election shall also be eligible to vote in a subsequent runoff primary if one shall be necessary.

Section 2. KRS 118.125 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in KRS 118.155, any person who is qualified under the provisions of KRS 116.055 to vote in any primary election for the candidates for nomination by the party at whose hands he seeks the nomination, shall have his name printed on the official ballot of his party for an office to which he is eligible in that primary, upon filing, with the Secretary of State or county clerk, as appropriate, at the proper time, a notification and declaration.

(2) The notification and declaration shall be in the form prescribed by the State Board of Elections. It shall be signed by the candidate and by not less than two (2) registered voters of the same party from the district or jurisdiction from which the candidate seeks nomination.

   (a) The notification and declaration for a candidate for an office other than Governor or Lieutenant Governor shall include the following oath:

   "For the purpose of having my name placed on the official primary election ballot as a candidate for nomination by the ----- Party, I, ----- (name in full as desired on the ballot as provided in KRS 118.129), do solemnly swear that I reside at No. ------ street in the City of -----, State of Kentucky, and that I am a registered ----- (party) voter in ------ precinct, City of -----; that I believe in the principles of the ------ Party, and intend to support its principles and policies and vote for its nominees at the coming regular election; that I was affiliated with such party on December 31 immediately preceding the primary election at which I seek the nomination of the party and supported its nominees at the last regular election, or was prevented from doing so by reason of ------ (state reason here); that if nominated as a candidate of such party at the ensuing election I will accept the nomination and not withdraw for reasons other than those stated in KRS 118.105(3); that I will not knowingly violate any election law or any law relating to corrupt and fraudulent practice in campaigns or elections in this state, and if finally elected I will qualify for the office."

   The declaration shall be subscribed and sworn to by the person making it before an officer authorized to administer an oath.

   (b) The notification and declaration for a slate of candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor shall include the following oath:

"For the purpose of having our names placed on the official primary election ballot as a slate of candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor for nomination by the ----- Party, I, -----, (name of candidate for Governor in full as desired on the ballot as provided in KRS 118.129), do solemnly swear that I reside at ----- in the City of -----, State of Kentucky, and that I am a registered ----- (party) voter in ----- precinct, City of -----; and I, -----, (name of candidate for Lieutenant Governor in full as desired on the ballot as provided in KRS 118.129), do solemnly swear that I reside at ----- in the City of -----, State of Kentucky, and that I am a registered ----- (party) voter in ----- precinct, City of -----; that we believe in the principles of the ----- Party, and intend to support its principles and policies and vote for its nominees in the regular election at which a Governor and Lieutenant Governor are elected; that we will be or were affiliated with that party on December 31 immediately preceding the primary election at which I seek the nomination of the party and will support or supported its nominees at the regular election preceding the year in which a Governor and Lieutenant Governor are elected, or will be or were prevented from doing so by reason of ------ (state reason here for the candidate for Governor) ------ (state reason here for the candidate for Lieutenant Governor); that we will accept the nomination and not withdraw for reasons other than those stated in KRS 118.105(3); that we will not knowingly violate any election law or any law relating to corrupt or fraudulent practice in campaigns or elections in this state, and if finally elected we will qualify for our offices."

The declaration shall be subscribed and sworn to by the persons making it before an officer authorized to administer an oath.

(3) When the notice and declaration has been filed with the Secretary of State or county clerk, as appropriate, and certified according to KRS 118.165, the Secretary of State or county clerk, as appropriate, shall have the candidate's name printed on the ballot according to the provisions of this chapter, except as provided in KRS 118.185.

(4) Titles, ranks, or spurious phrases shall not be accepted on the filing papers and shall not be printed on the ballots as part of the candidate's name; however, nicknames, initials, and contractions of given names may be acceptable as the candidate's name.

Section 3. KRS 118.315 is amended to read as follows:

(1) A candidate for any office to be voted for at any regular election may be nominated by a petition of electors qualified to vote for him, complying with the provisions of subsection (2) of this section. No person who is a registered member of a political party shall be eligible to election as an independent candidate, nor shall any person be eligible to election as an independent candidate who was a registered member of a political party on December 31 immediately preceding the regular election for which the person seeks to be a candidate~~[at the time of the last preceding regular election]~~. This restriction shall not apply to candidates to those offices specified in KRS 118.105(5), for supervisor of a soil and water conservation district, for candidates for mayor or legislative body in cities of the second to sixth class, or to candidates participating in nonpartisan elections.

(2) The form of the petition shall be prescribed by the State Board of Elections. It shall be signed by the candidate and by registered voters from the district or jurisdiction from which the candidate seeks nomination. A petition of nomination for a state officer, or any officer for whom all the electors of the state are entitled to vote, shall contain five thousand (5,000) petitioners; for a representative in Congress from any congressional district, or for any officer from any other district except as herein provided, four hundred (400) petitioners; for a county officer, member of the General Assembly, or Commonwealth's attorney, one hundred (100) petitioners; for a soil and water conservation district supervisor, twenty-five (25) petitioners; for a city officer, two (2) petitioners; and for an officer of a division less than a county, except as herein provided, twenty (20) petitioners. It shall not be necessary that the signatures of the petition be appended to one (1) paper. Each petitioner shall include his residence, Social Security number or date of birth, and post-office address. Failure of a voter to include his Social Security number or date of birth and address shall result in his signature not being counted. If any person joins in nominating, by petition, more than one (1) nominee for any office to be filled, he shall be counted as a petitioner for the candidate whose petition is filed first, except a petitioner for the nomination of candidates for soil and water conservation district supervisors may be counted for every petition to which his signature is affixed.

(3) Titles, ranks, or spurious phrases shall not be accepted on the filing papers and shall not be printed on the ballots as part of the candidate's name; however, nicknames, initials, and contractions of given names may be accepted as the candidate's name.

(4) The Secretary of State and county clerks shall examine the petitions of all candidates who file with them to determine whether each petition is regular on its face. If there is an error, the Secretary of State or the county clerk shall notify the candidate by certified mail within twenty-four (24) hours of filing.

Section 4. KRS 116.112 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The State Board of Elections shall establish a voter registration purge program using the change-of-address information supplied by the United States Postal Service through its licensees or other sources to identify voters whose addresses may have changed.

(2) If it appears from information provided by the postal service or other sources that a voter has moved to a different address in the same county in which the voter is currently registered, the State Board of Elections shall provide to the county board of elections the information necessary to change the registration records to show the new address and the county board of elections shall send the voter a notice of the change by forwardable mail and a postage prepaid, pre-addressed return form by which the voter may verify or correct the address information.

(3) If it appears from information provided by the postal service or other sources that a voter has moved to a different address not in the same county, the State Board of Elections shall send to the address from which the voter was last registered, by forwardable mail, a notice on a form prescribed by the State Board of Elections, with a postage prepaid and pre-addressed return card on which the voter may state his current address. If a county board of elections requests authorization from the state board to send address confirmation notices as provided in this subsection, the state board shall grant the request.

(4) A county clerk may request from any utility company doing business in the clerk's county information about utility service connections or disconnections completed in any county to assist the county clerk in maintaining accurate address information on the voter registration records. A utility company shall provide to the county clerk the name, address, and Social Security number of its patrons, if requested. This conveyance of information shall not be construed in any manner as a breach of privacy of a utility patron by the utility company. A county clerk may change the address of a voter on the voter registration rolls by virtue of information, received from a utility company, that indicates that the voter has changed residences within the county and shall notify the voter of the new voting precinct name and location by mail. A county clerk shall not remove the name of a voter from the voter registration records on the basis of information, received from a utility company, that indicates that utility service has been disconnected because the voter has changed his residence or because of nonpayment of a utility service account without the independent confirming documentation required by subsection (5) of this section.

(5) The state or county boards of elections shall not remove the name of a voter from the registration records on the ground that the voter has changed his residence unless the voter:

(a) Confirms in writing that the voter has changed residence to a place outside the county; or

(b) 1. Has failed to respond to the notice described in subsection (3) of this section; and

2. Has not voted or appeared to vote and, if necessary, correct the registration records of the voter's address in an election during the period beginning on the date of the notice and ending on the day after the date of the second general election for Federal office that occurs after the date of the notice.

(c) If a county board of elections requests authorization from the state board to conduct purges of voters in its county in accordance with the provisions of this subsection, the state board shall grant the request.

(6)[~~(5)~~] The State Board of Elections shall establish an inactive list of all voters who fail to respond to the notice described in subsection (3) of this section and do not vote or appear to vote in an election during the period beginning on the date of the notice and ending on the day after the date of the second general election for Federal office that occurs after the date of the notice. If a county board of elections requests authorization from the state board to establish an inactive list of voters for its county, the state board shall grant the request.

(7)[~~(6)~~] The State Board of Elections shall complete, not later than ninety (90) days prior to the date of a primary or general election, any program the purpose of which is to systematically remove the names of ineligible voters from the registration records.

(8)[~~(7)~~] Voters placed on an inactive list are to be counted only for purposes of voting and not for purposes of establishing or modifying precincts, calculating the amount of reimbursement of county clerks by the State Board of Elections for certain election-related expenses, or reporting official statistics, except as provided by the Federal Election Commission's regulations promulgated pursuant to the National Voter Registration Act of 1993.

(9)[~~(8)~~] (a) The State Board of Elections and county boards of elections shall maintain for at least two (2) years and shall make available for public inspection and, where available, photocopying at a reasonable cost, all records concerning the implementation of programs and activities conducted for the purpose of ensuring the accuracy and currency of the registration records, except to the extent that the records relate to the declination to register to vote or the identity of a voter registration agency through which any particular voter is registered.

(b) The records maintained pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection shall include lists of the names and addresses of all persons to whom notices described in subsection (3) are sent, and information concerning whether each person has responded to the notice as of the date that inspection of the records is made.

Section 5. KRS 117.045 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The county board of elections shall in the manner prescribed by this section, not later than March 20 each year, except in a year in which no primary and regular elections are scheduled, appoint for each precinct in the county two (2) judges, one (1) clerk and one (1) sheriff of election. They shall serve in all elections held in the county during the year, except as provided in KRS Chapter 242. If a special election is ordered to be held in a year in which no elections are scheduled, the county executive committee of each political party in each county in the territory affected by the special election shall, not later than twenty-eight (28) days preceding the date of the special election, submit a written list of nominees for precinct election officers to serve in the special election in a manner consistent with the provisions of subsection (2) of this section. The county board of elections in each county in the territory affected by the special election shall, not later than twenty-one (21) days preceding the date of the special election, appoint precinct election officers to serve in the special election in a manner consistent with the provisions of subsections (4), (5), and (6) of this section. The State Board of Elections shall promulgate an administrative regulation establishing evaluation procedures which county boards of elections may use to qualify persons nominated to serve as precinct election officers.

(2) The county executive committees of the two (2) political parties having representation on the State Board of Elections may, on or before March 15 each year, designate in writing to the county board of elections a list of not less than four (4) names for each precinct; except that, in any precinct where there are not as many as four (4) persons possessing the qualifications of an election officer belonging to the political party filing the list, a lesser number may be designated. If there are two (2) or more contending executive committees of the same party in any county, the one (1) recognized by the written certificate of the chairman of the state central committee of the party shall be the one (1) authorized to submit the lists. The lists shall contain the full name, address, phone number, and Social Security number, if available, of each person listed. The lists shall be accompanied by a signed statement from each person stating that he is willing to serve, has not failed to serve without excuse in the past, and has not been convicted of an election law offense or any felony, unless the person's civil rights have been restored by the Governor. The State Board of Elections shall prescribe by administrative regulation the form of the list.

(3) The Attorney General shall notify each party state central committee of the duties of the party.

(4) If lists are submitted, the county board of elections shall select one (1) judge at each voting place from each political party's list, and the county board shall select the sheriff from one (1) political party's list and the clerk from the other. If no lists are submitted, the two (2) members of the county board of elections who are appointed by the State Board of Elections may submit lists; and the county board shall select the sheriff and one (1) judge from one (1) list and the clerk and the other judge from the remaining list. If no lists are submitted, the county board shall select the sheriff and one (1) judge from the membership of one (1) party and the clerk and the other judge from the membership of the remaining party. The county board shall, when possible, also appoint an adequate number of alternate precinct election officers from names on the lists which were submitted but which were not selected by the county board as precinct election officers. If alternate precinct election officers are not appointed from the lists of nominees who were not selected as precinct election officers, the county board of elections shall submit its method of selecting alternate precinct election officers to the State Board of Elections for its approval.

(5) If, after all reasonable efforts have been made, the county board of elections is unable to find two (2) qualified officers for each precinct who are affiliated with the two (2) political parties having representation on the State Board of Elections, the county board shall submit a list of emergency election officer appointments to the State Board of Elections. The county board shall also present, in writing, its efforts to recruit and appoint election officers as prescribed in subsection (4) of this section. The list of emergency appointments may include qualified voters not affiliated with the two (2) parties represented on the state board. The state board, after its review, may approve any or all of the emergency appointments submitted by the county board or may direct the county board to take other action. Any emergency appointment shall be made for the next ensuing election only.

(6) In addition to precinct election officers appointed under subsection (1) of this section, a county board of elections may appoint up to two (2) additional precinct election officers per precinct with the approval of the State Board of Elections. The state board shall promulgate an administrative regulation establishing conditions under which additional precinct officers may be approved.

(7) The county board of elections shall, within ten (10) days before the next ensuing election, give each election officer written notice of his appointment. The board may direct the sheriff of the county to serve the notice of appointment, if it deems the action is necessary.

(8)[~~(7)~~] The State Board of Elections may require the county board of elections to submit its list of precinct officers for review. The State Board of Elections may, after a hearing, direct the removal of any election officer who the board finds would not fairly administer the state election laws. The state board shall replace any officer so removed. The board shall provide for the method and manner of the hearing by administrative regulation.

(9)[~~(8)~~] An election officer shall be a qualified voter of the precinct; except that, where no qualified voter of the required political party is available within the precinct, the election officer shall be a qualified voter of the county. An election officer shall not be a candidate or the spouse, parent, brother, sister, or child of a candidate who is to be voted for at the election. (c) If any board fails to comply with the order of the Kentucky Board of Education within thirty (30) days or prior to August 1 in any year in which any members of the board are to be elected, members shall be elected from the district at large until the order of the Kentucky Board of Education has been complied with.

The declaration shall be subscribed and sworn to by the persons making it before an officer authorized to administer an oath.

(3) When the notice and declaration has been filed with the Secretary of State or county clerk, as appropriate, and certified according to KRS 118.165, the Secretary of State or county clerk, as appropriate, shall have the candidate's name printed on the ballot according to the provisions of this chapter, except as provided in KRS 118.185.

(4) Titles, ranks, or spurious phrases shall not be accepted on the filing papers and shall not be printed on the ballots as part of the candidate's name; however, nicknames, initials, and contractions of given names may be acceptable as the candidate's name.

Section 3. KRS 118.315 is amended to read as follows:

(1) A candidate for any office to be voted for at any regular election may be nominated by a petition of electors qualified to vote for him, complying with the provisions of subsection (2) of this section. No person who is a registered member of a political party shall be eligible to election as an independent candidate, nor shall any person be eligible to election as an independent candidate who was a registered member of a political party on December 31 immediately preceding the regular election for which the person seeks to be a candidate[~~at the time of the last preceding regular election~~]. This restriction shall not apply to candidates to those offices specified in KRS 118.105(5), for supervisor of a soil and water conservation district, for candidates for mayor or legislative body in cities of the second to sixth class, or to candidates participating in nonpartisan elections.

(2) The form of the petition shall be prescribed by the State Board of Elections. It shall be signed by the candidate and by registered voters from the district or jurisdiction from which the candidate seeks nomination. A petition of nomination for a state officer, or any officer for whom all the electors of the state are entitled to vote, shall contain five thousand (5,000) petitioners; for a representative in Congress from any congressional district, or for any officer from any other district except as herein provided, four hundred (400) petitioners; for a county officer, member of the General Assembly, or Commonwealth's attorney, one hundred (100) petitioners; for a soil and water conservation district supervisor, twenty-five (25) petitioners; for a city officer, two (2) petitioners; and for an officer of a division less than a county, except as herein provided, twenty (20) petitioners. It shall not be necessary that the signatures of the petition be appended to one (1) paper. Each petitioner shall include his residence, Social Security number or date of birth, and post-office address. Failure of a voter to include his Social Security number or date of birth and address shall result in his signature not being counted. If any person joins in nominating, by petition, more than one (1) nominee for any office to be filled, he shall be counted as a petitioner for the candidate whose petition is filed first, except a petitioner for the nomination of candidates for soil and water conservation district supervisors may be counted for every petition to which his signature is affixed.

(3) Titles, ranks, or spurious phrases shall not be accepted on the filing papers and shall not be printed on the ballots as part of the candidate's name; however, nicknames, initials, and contractions of given names may be accepted as the candidate's name.

(4) The Secretary of State and county clerks shall examine the petitions of all candidates who file with them to determine whether each petition is regular on its face. If there is an error, the Secretary of State or the county clerk shall notify the

They shall serve in all elections held in the county during the year, except as provided in KRS Chapter 242. If a special election is ordered to be held in a year in which no elections are scheduled, the county executive committee of each political party in each county in the territory affected by the special election shall, not later than twenty-eight (28) days preceding the date of the special election, submit a written list of nominees for precinct election officers to serve in the special election in a manner consistent with the provisions of subsection (2) of this section. The county board of elections in each county in the territory affected by the special election shall, not later than twenty-one (21) days preceding the date of the special election, appoint precinct election officers to serve in the special election in a manner consistent with the provisions of subsections (4), (5), and (6) of this section. The State Board of Elections shall promulgate an administrative regulation establishing evaluation procedures which county boards of elections may use to qualify persons nominated to serve as precinct election officers.

(2) The county executive committees of the two (2) political parties having representation on the State Board of Elections may, on or before March 15 each year, designate in writing to the county board of elections a list of not less than four (4) names for each precinct; except that, in any precinct where there are not as many as four (4) persons possessing the qualifications of an election officer belonging to the political party filing the list, a lesser number may be designated. If there are two (2) or more contending executive committees of the same party in any county, the one (1) recognized by the written certificate of the chairman of the state central committee of the party shall be the one (1) authorized to submit the lists. The lists shall contain the full name, address, phone number, and Social Security number, if available, of each person listed. The lists shall be accompanied by a signed statement from each person stating that he is willing to serve, has not failed to serve without excuse in the past, and has not been convicted of an election law offense or any felony, unless the person's civil rights have been restored by the Governor. The State Board of Elections shall prescribe by administrative regulation the form of the list.

(3) The Attorney General shall notify each party state central committee of the duties of the party.

(4) If lists are submitted, the county board of elections shall select one (1) judge at each voting place from each political party's list, and the county board shall select the sheriff from one (1) political party's list and the clerk from the other. If no lists are submitted, the two (2) members of the county board of elections who are appointed by the State Board of Elections may submit lists; and the county board shall select the sheriff and one (1) judge from one (1) list and the clerk and the other judge from the remaining list. If no lists are submitted, the county board shall select the sheriff and one (1) judge from the membership of one (1) party and the clerk and the other judge from the membership of the remaining party. The county board shall, when possible, also appoint an adequate number of alternate precinct election officers from names on the lists which were submitted but which were not selected by the county board as precinct election officers. If alternate precinct election officers are not appointed from the lists of nominees who were not selected as precinct election officers, the county board of elections shall submit its method of selecting alternate precinct election officers to the State Board of Elections for its approval.

(5) If, after all reasonable efforts have been made, the county board of elections is unable to find two (2) qualified officers for each precinct who are affiliated with the two (2) political parties having representation on the State Board of Elections, the county board shall submit a list of emergency election officer appointments to the State Board of Elections. The county board shall also present, in writing, its efforts to recruit and appoint election officers as prescribed in subsection (4) of this section. The list of emergency appointments may include qualified voters not affiliated with the two (2) parties represented on the state board. The state board, after its review, may approve any or all of the emergency appointments submitted by the county board or may direct the county board to take other action. Any emergency appointment shall be made for the next ensuing election only.

(6) In addition to precinct election officers appointed under subsection (1) of this section, a county board of elections may appoint up to two (2) additional precinct election officers per precinct with the approval of the State Board of Elections. The state board shall promulgate an administrative regulation establishing conditions under which additional precinct officers may be approved.

(7) The county board of elections shall, within ten (10) days before the next ensuing election, give each election officer written notice of his appointment. The board may direct the sheriff of the county to serve the notice of appointment, if it deems the action is necessary.

(8)[~~(7)~~] The State Board of Elections may require the county board of elections to submit its list of precinct officers for review. The State Board of Elections may, after a hearing, direct the removal of any election officer who the board finds would not fairly administer the state election laws. The state board shall replace any officer so removed. The board shall provide for the method and manner of the hearing by administrative regulation.

(9)[~~(8)~~] An election officer shall be a qualified voter of the precinct; except that, where no qualified voter of the required political party is available within the precinct, the election officer shall be a qualified voter of the county. An election officer shall not be a candidate or the spouse, parent, brother, sister, or child of a candidate who is to be voted for at the election. An election officer shall not have changed his voter registration party affiliation for one (1) year[~~two (2) years~~] prior to his appointment. An election officer may be removed, for cause, at any time up to five (5) days before an election. Vacancies shall be filled by the county board with alternate precinct election officers and the person appointed to fill the vacancy shall be of the same political party as the vacating officer, except for emergency appointments made as provided in subsection (5) of this section.

(10)[~~(9)~~] If the county board of elections fails to appoint election officers, or if any officer is not present at the precinct at the time for commencing the election, or refuses to act, and if no alternate is available, the officer in attendance representing the political party of the absentee shall appoint a suitable person to act in his place for that election. If both representatives of the same political party are absent, qualified voters present affiliating with that party shall elect, viva voce, suitable persons to act in their places.

(11)[~~(10)~~] Each election officer shall be paid a minimum of sixty dollars ($60) per election day served, and such an additional amount as compensation as may be determined by the county board of elections, with the approval of the governing body which would be responsible for funding the election officers' pay, for each election in which the election officer serves, to be paid by the county. For delivering the election packets to the polls, the precinct election officers shall receive in addition the mileage reimbursement provided for state employees, for each mile necessarily traveled in the delivery of the packets to the polls, or a flat fee if the fee equals or exceeds that amount. For delivering election returns, the precinct election[~~two (2)~~] judges shall receive in addition the mileage reimbursement provided for state employees for each mile necessarily traveled from the place of voting to and from the place of delivery, or a flat fee if the fee equals or exceeds that amount. The fee paid to the precinct election[~~two (2)~~] judges for delivering election returns shall be paid by the county.

Section 5. KRS 117.075 is amended to read as follows:

(b) Each option of the Kentucky Board of Education to renew the lease for a succeeding biennial term may be exercised at any time after the adjournment of the session of the General Assembly at which appropriations shall have been made for the operation of the state government for such succeeding biennial term, by notifying the State Property and Buildings Commission in writing, signed by the chief state school officer, and delivered to the secretary of the Finance and Administration Cabinet as a member of the commission. The option shall be deemed automatically exercised, and the lease automatically renewed for the succeeding biennium, effective on the first day thereof, unless a written notice of the board's election not to renew shall have been delivered in the office of the secretary of the Finance and Administration Cabinet before the close of business on the last working day in April immediately preceding the beginning of the succeeding biennium.

(c) The Kentucky Board of Education shall not itself operate leased television facilities, or undertake the preparation of the educational presentations or films to be transmitted thereby, but may enter into one (1) or more contracts to provide therefor, with any public agency and instrumentality of the Commonwealth having, or able to provide, a staff with proper technical qualifications, upon which agency and instrumentality the board, through the chief state school officer and the Department of Education, is represented in such manner as to coordinate matters of curriculum with the curricula prescribed for the public schools of the Commonwealth. The board may receive and may apply to rental payments under any lease and to the cost of providing for the operation of the television or related facilities not only appropriations which may be made to it from state funds, from time to time, but also contributions, gifts, matching funds, devises, and bequests from any source, whether federal or state, and whether public or private, so long as the same are not conditioned upon any improper use of the television or related facilities in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of this subsection.

(5)[~~(4)~~] The state board may, on the recommendation and with the advice of the chief state school officer, prescribe, print, publish, and distribute at public expense such administrative regulations, courses of study, curriculums, bulletins, programs, outlines, reports, and placards as each deems necessary for the efficient management, control, and operation of the schools and programs under its jurisdiction. All administrative regulations published or distributed by the board shall be inclosed in a booklet or binder on which the words "informational copy" shall be clearly stamped or printed.

(6)[~~(5)~~] Upon the recommendation of the chief state school officer or his designee, the state board shall establish policy or act on all matters relating to programs, services, publications, capital construction and facility renovation, equipment,

Section 6. KRS 439.265 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Subject to the provisions of KRS Chapter 439 and Chapters 500 to 534, any Circuit Court may, upon motion of the defendant made not earlier than thirty (30) days nor later than one hundred eighty (180) days after the defendant has been incarcerated in a county jail following his conviction and sentencing pending delivery to the institution to which he has been sentenced, or delivered to the keeper of the institution to which he has been sentenced, suspend the further execution of the sentence and place the defendant on probation upon terms the court determines. Time spent on any form of release following conviction shall not count toward time required under this section.

(2) The court shall consider any motion filed in accordance with subsection (1) of this section within sixty (60) days of the filing date of that motion, and shall enter its ruling within ten (10) days after considering the motion. The defendant may, in the discretion of the trial court, have the right to a hearing on any motion he may file, or have filed for him, that would suspend further execution of sentence. Any court order granting or denying a motion to suspend further execution of sentence is not reviewable.

(3) (a) During the period in which the defendant may file a motion pursuant to this statute, the sentencing judge, within his or her discretion, may order that the defendant be held in a local detention facility that is not at or above maximum capacity until such time as the court rules on said motion. During this period of detention, and prior to the court's ruling on said motion, the court may require the defendant to participate in any approved community work program or other forms of work release. Persons held in the county jail pursuant to this subsection shall not be subject to transfer to a state correctional facility until the decision is made not to place the petitioner on shock probation.

(4) If the defendant has been convicted of an offense under KRS 510.040, 510.050, 510.070, 510.080, 530.020, 530.064, or 531.310, or criminal attempt to commit any of these offenses under KRS 506.010, the sentence shall not be suspended, in accordance with KRS 532.045.

(5) If the defendant has been convicted of an offense under KRS 510.060, 510.090, or 510.110, prior to considering the motion to suspend a sentence, the court shall order an evaluation of the defendant to be conducted by the sex offender treatment program operated or approved by the Department of Corrections or the Department for Mental Health and Mental Retardation Services. The evaluation shall provide to the court a recommendation related to the risk of a repeat offense by the defendant and the defendant's amenability to treatment, and shall be considered by the court in determining whether to suspend the sentence. If the court suspends the sentence and places the defendant on probation, the provisions of KRS 532.045 (3) to (7) shall apply.

(6) The authority granted in this section shall be exercised by the judge who imposed sentence on the defendant, unless he is unable to act and it appears that his inability to act should continue beyond the expiration of the term of the court. In such case, the judge who imposed sentence shall assign a judge to dispose of a motion filed under this section, or as prescribed by the rules and practices concerning the responsibility for disposition of criminal matters.

[~~(7) The provisions of this section shall not apply where a sentence of death has been imposed.~~]

Section 7. KRS 439.3401 is amended to read as follows:

(2) A violent offender who has been convicted of a capital offense and who has received a life sentence (and has not been sentenced to life imprisonment without possibility of probation or parole or twenty-five (25) years without parole), or a Class A felony and receives a life sentence[~~, or to death and his sentence is commuted to a life sentence~~] shall not be released on parole until he has served his entire sentence [~~at least twelve (12) years in the penitentiary~~].

(3) A violent offender who has been convicted of a capital offense or Class A felony with a sentence of a term of years or Class B felony who is a violent offender shall not be released on parole until he has served at least fifty percent (50%) of the sentence imposed.

(4) This section shall not apply to a person who has been determined by a court to have been a victim of domestic violence or abuse pursuant to KRS 533.060 with regard to the offenses involving the death of the victim or serious physical injury to the victim. The provisions of this subsection shall not extend to rape in the first degree or sodomy in the first degree by the defendant.

(5) This section shall apply only to those persons who commit offenses after July 15, 1986.

Section 8. KRS 440.280 is amended to read as follows:

The arrest of a person may be lawfully made also by any peace officer or a private person, without a warrant upon reasonable information that the accused stands charged in the courts of a state with a crime punishable by [~~death or~~] imprisonment for a term exceeding one (1) year, but when so arrested the accused must be taken before a judge with all practicable speed and complaint must be made against him under oath setting forth the ground for the arrest as in the preceding section; and thereafter his answer shall be heard as if he had been arrested on a warrant.

Section 9. KRS 440.300 is amended to read as follows:

Unless the offense with which the prisoner is charged is shown to be an offense punishable by [~~death or~~] life imprisonment or life imprisonment without possibility of probation or parole under the laws of the state in which it was committed, a judge in this state may admit the person arrested to bail by bond, with sufficient sureties, and in such sum as he deems proper, conditioned for his appearance before him at a time specified in such bond, and for his surrender, to be arrested upon the warrant of the Governor of this state.

Section 10. KRS 532.025 is amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) Upon conviction of a defendant in cases where the sentence of life imprisonment without possibility of probation or parole [~~death penalty~~] may be imposed, a hearing shall be conducted. In such hearing, the judge shall hear additional evidence in extenuation, mitigation, and aggravation of punishment, including the record of any prior criminal convictions and pleas of guilty or pleas of nolo contendere of the defendant, or the absence of any prior conviction and pleas; provided, however, that only such evidence in aggravation as the state has made known to the defendant prior to his trial shall be admissible. Subject to the Kentucky Rules of Evidence, juvenile court records of adjudications of guilt of a child for an offense that would be a felony if committed by an adult shall be admissible in court at any time the child is tried as an adult, or after the child becomes an adult, at any subsequent criminal trial relating to that same person. Juvenile court records made available pursuant to this section may be used for impeachment purposes during a criminal trial and may be used during the sentencing phase of a criminal trial; however, the fact that a juvenile has been adjudicated delinquent of an offense that would be a felony if the child had been an adult shall not be used in finding the child to be a persistent felony offender based upon that adjudication. Release of the child's treatment, medical, mental, or psychological records is prohibited unless presented as evidence in Circuit Court. Release of any records resulting from the child's prior abuse and neglect under Title IV-E or IV-B of the Federal Social Security Act is also prohibited. The judge shall also hear argument by the defendant or his counsel and the prosecuting attorney, as provided by law, regarding the punishment to be imposed. The prosecuting attorney shall open and the defendant shall conclude the argument. In cases in which the sentence may become life imprisonment without possibility of probation or parole [~~death penalty may be imposed~~], the judge when sitting without a jury shall follow the additional procedure provided in subsection (2) of this section. Upon the conclusion of the evidence and arguments, the judge shall impose the sentence or shall recess the trial for the purpose of taking the sentence within the limits prescribed by law. If the trial court is reversed on appeal because of error only in the presentence hearing, the new trial which may be ordered shall apply only to the issue of punishment;

(b) In all cases in which the sentence of life imprisonment without possibility of probation or parole [~~death penalty~~] may be imposed and which are tried by a jury, upon a return of a verdict of guilty by the jury, the court shall resume the trial and conduct a presentence hearing before the jury. Such hearing shall be conducted in the same manner as presentence hearings conducted before the judge as provided in paragraph (a) of this subsection, including the record of any prior criminal convictions and pleas of guilty or pleas of nolo contendere of the defendant. Upon the conclusion of the evidence and arguments, the judge shall give the jury appropriate instructions, and the jury shall retire to determine whether any mitigating or aggravating circumstances, as defined in subsection (2) of this section, exist and to recommend a sentence for the defendant. Upon the findings of the jury, the judge shall fix a sentence within the limits prescribed by law.

(2) In all cases of offenses for which the sentence of life imprisonment without possibility of probation or parole [~~death penalty~~] may be authorized, the judge shall consider, or he shall include in his instructions to the jury for it to consider, any mitigating circumstances or aggravating circumstances otherwise authorized by law and any of the following statutory aggravating or mitigating circumstances which may be supported by the evidence:

(a) Aggravating circumstances:

1. The offense of murder or kidnapping was committed by a person with a prior record of conviction for a capital offense, or the offense of murder was committed by a person who has a substantial history of serious assaultive criminal convictions;

2. The offense of murder or kidnapping was committed while the offender was engaged in the commission of arson in the first degree, robbery in the first degree, burglary in the first degree, rape in the first degree, or sodomy in the first degree;

4. The offender committed the offense of murder for himself or another, for the purpose of receiving money or any other thing of monetary value, or for other profit;

5. The offense of murder was committed by a person who was a prisoner and the victim was a prison employee engaged at the time of the act in the performance of his duties;

6. The offender's act or acts of killing were intentional and resulted in multiple deaths; and

7. The offender's act of killing was intentional and the victim was a state or local public official or police officer, sheriff, or deputy sheriff engaged at the time of the act in the lawful performance of his duties;

(b) Mitigating circumstances:

1. The defendant has no significant history of prior criminal activity;

2. The capital offense was committed while the defendant was under the influence of extreme mental or emotional disturbance even though the influence of extreme mental or emotional disturbance is not sufficient to constitute a defense to the crime;

3. The victim was a participant in the defendant's criminal conduct or consented to the criminal act;

4. The capital offense was committed under circumstances which the defendant believed to provide a moral justification or extenuation for his conduct even though the circumstances which the defendant believed to provide a moral justification or extenuation for his conduct are not sufficient to constitute a defense to the crime;

5. The defendant was an accomplice in a capital offense committed by another person and his participation in the capital offense was relatively minor;

6. The defendant acted under duress or under the domination of another person even though the duress or the domination of another person is not sufficient to constitute a defense to the crime;

7. At the time of the capital offense, the capacity of the defendant to appreciate the criminality of his conduct to the requirements of law was impaired as a result of mental illness or retardation or intoxication even though the impairment of the capacity of the defendant to appreciate the criminality of his conduct or to conform the conduct to the requirements of law is insufficient to constitute a defense to the crime; and

8. The youth of the defendant at the time of the crime.

(3) The instructions as determined by the trial judge to be warranted by the evidence or as required by KRS 532.030(4) shall be given in charge and in writing to the jury for its deliberation. The jury, if its verdict be a recommendation of a sentence of life imprisonment without possibility of probation or parole [~~death~~], or imprisonment for life without benefit of probation or parole until the defendant has served a minimum of twenty-five (25) years of his sentence, shall designate in writing, signed by the foreman of the jury, the aggravating circumstance or circumstances which it found beyond a reasonable doubt. In nonjury cases, the judge shall make such designation. In all cases unless at least one (1) of the statutory aggravating circumstances enumerated in subsection (2) of this section is so found, the sentence of life imprisonment without possibility of probation or parole [~~death penalty~~] or the sentence to imprisonment for life without benefit of probation or parole until the defendant has served a minimum of twenty-five (25) years of his sentence, shall not be imposed.

Section 11. KRS 532.030 is amended to read as follows:

(1) When a person is convicted of a capital offense he shall have his punishment fixed at life imprisonment without benefit of probation or parole [~~death~~], or at a term of imprisonment for life without benefit of probation or parole until he has served a minimum of twenty-five (25) years of his sentence, or to a sentence of life, or to a term of not less than twenty (20) years.

(2) When a person is convicted of a Class A felony he shall have his punishment fixed at imprisonment in accordance with KRS 532.060.

(3) When a person is convicted of an offense other than a capital offense or Class A felony, he shall have his punishment fixed at:

(a) A term of imprisonment authorized by this chapter; or

(b) A fine authorized by KRS Chapter 534; or

(c) Both imprisonment and a fine unless precluded by the provisions of KRS Chapter 534.

(4) In all cases in which the sentence of life imprisonment without possibility of probation or parole [~~death penalty~~] may be authorized the judge shall instruct the jury in accordance with subsection (1) of this section. The instructions shall state, subject to the aggravating and mitigating limitations and requirements of KRS 532.025, that the jury may recommend upon a conviction for a capital offense a sentence of life imprisonment without possibility of probation or parole [~~death~~], or a term of imprisonment for life without benefit of probation or parole until the defendant has served a minimum of twenty-five (25) years of his sentence, or a sentence of life, or to a term of not less than twenty (20) years.

(3) The monthly statewide caseload average for family service workers in the area of foster care, child protection, juvenile services, or adult protection shall not exceed twenty-five (25) active cases.

(4) Nothing in this section shall prevent the department or a family service worker from handling emergencies to carry out statutory mandates. If the monthly statewide caseload average for family service workers exceeds twenty-five (25) active cases for ninety (90) consecutive days, the department shall report the fact to the Governor and to the Legislative Research Commission together with a description of the factors contributing thereto and shall make recommendations related thereto. Section 139. KRS 199.473 is amended to read as follows:

(1) All persons other than a child-placing agency or institution, the department, or persons excepted by KRS 199.470(4) or (5) who wish to place or receive a child shall make written application to the secretary for permission to place or receive a child. Prior to the approval of an application to place or receive a child, together with the fee required pursuant to subsection (6) of this section, the secretary shall cause the investigation to be made by a Cabinet for Families and Children~~[Human Resources]~~ social worker unless the applicant specifies in the application that the investigation shall be done by an adoption worker of the home and the background of the person or persons wishing to receive the child. The portion of the investigation pertaining to the home and family background shall be valid for one (1) year following the date of its completion by an adoption worker. The purpose of the investigation shall be to determine the suitability of the applicants to receive a child, taking into account at all times the best interest of the child for whom application to receive has been made. The adoption worker making the investigation shall make a finding in writing recommending either that the application be granted or that the application be denied. In either case, reasons for the adoption worker's recommendation shall be given in writing. The recommendation of the adoption worker shall then be reviewed by the secretary. Based on the report and recommendation of the adoption worker making the investigation, the secretary shall grant or refuse permission for the applicant to place or receive a child as early as practicable, but, in any case, the decision shall be made within sixty (60) days after the receipt of the application. In reaching a~~[his]~~ decision, the secretary shall be guided by the ability of the persons wishing to receive the child to give the child a suitable home, and shall at all times consider the best interest of the child from a financial, medical, psychological, and psychiatric standpoint. If the application is refused, the secretary shall in general terms furnish in writing the reasons for his refusal.

(2) Upon a finding by the Circuit Court that the child should be placed prior to the secretary's ruling on the application, the Circuit Court may grant the applicant temporary custody of the child pending the decision of the secretary. If the application is denied, the temporary custody order shall be set aside and, upon motion of the cabinet or of the child's parent or parents, the Circuit Court may order the child returned to the biological parent or parents or the child's custody may be awarded to the cabinet, another licensed child-placing agency, or~~[such]~~ other individuals deemed appropriate by the court. This section shall not be deemed to permit the completion of any adoption proceeding without the approval of the secretary and compliance with KRS 615.030, if required.

(3) In any case where the cabinet refuses to approve the placement of a child for adoption when requested by the parent or parents of the child, or refuses the request of any person or persons that a child be placed with that person or those persons[~~him or them~~] for adoption, the decision of the secretary in so refusing shall be final unless within ten (10) days after notice of refusal, the biological or proposed adopting parent or parents shall appeal to the Circuit Court of the county in which the adoption is proposed. No placement shall be disapproved on the basis of the religious, ethnic, racial, or interfaith background of the adoptive applicant, if the placement is made with the consent of the parent. The cabinet may refuse to approve the placement of a child for adoption if the child's custodial parent is unwilling for the child to be placed for adoption with the proposed adoptive family. The cabinet may approve or deny the placement, in spite of the fact that the custodial parent or parents are unwilling to be interviewed by the cabinet or other approving entity, or if, after diligent efforts have been made, the adoption worker is unable to locate or interview the custodial parent or parents. The cabinet shall be made a party defendant to the appeal. In the hearing of an appeal, the court shall review the findings of the secretary and shall determine if the secretary has acted arbitrarily, unlawfully, or in[~~ such~~] a manner that constitutes[~~as to constitute~~] an abuse of discretion.

(4) If a child who does not fall within the exception provided for in KRS 199.470(4) or (5) is placed or received in a home without the permission of the secretary for families and children[~~human resources~~], or if permission to receive a child has been denied, a representative of the cabinet may petition the juvenile session of District Court of the county in which the child is found setting out the facts concerning the child. When the petition has been filed, the court shall take jurisdiction of the child and shall provide for it as it would provide for a dependent, neglected, or abused child under KRS Chapter 620, except that the child may not be placed in the home of the applicants who are to receive the child[~~him~~] unless permission to do so is granted by the secretary or the action is ordered by a Kentucky court of competent jurisdiction.

(5) When either the custodial parent or parents of the child to be placed or the persons wishing to receive the child reside out-of-state, the requirement of KRS 615.030, Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children, shall be met before the cabinet gives approval for the child's placement.

(6) The secretary of the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~] shall be paid a nonrefundable fee of one hundred fifty dollars ($150) upon the filing of the written application for permission to place or receive a child. Payment shall be made by certified or cashier's check only. All funds collected under this section shall be deposited in a restricted account, which is hereby created, for the purpose of subsidizing an adoptive parent for suitable care of a special needs child as authorized in KRS 199.555.

(7) Nothing in this statute shall be construed to limit the authority of the cabinet or a child-placing institution or agency to determine the proper disposition of a child committed to it by the juvenile session of District Court or the Circuit Court, prior to the filing of an application to place or receive.

Section 140. KRS 199.490 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The petition shall allege:

(a) The name, date, place of birth, place of residence, and mailing address of each petitioner, and, if married, the date and place of their marriage;

(f) The names of the parents of the child and the address of each living parent, if known. The name of the biological father of a child born out of wedlock shall not be given unless paternity is established in a legal action, or unless an affidavit is filed stating that the affiant is the father of the child. If certified copies of orders terminating parental rights are filed as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the name of any parent whose rights have been terminated shall not be given;

(g) The name and address of the child's guardian, if any, or of the cabinet, institution, or agency having legal custody of the child;

(h) Any further facts necessary for the location of the person or persons whose consent to the adoption is required, or whom KRS 199.480 requires to be made a party to or notified of the proceeding; and

(i) If any fact required by this subsection to be alleged is unknown to the petitioners, the lack of knowledge shall be alleged.

(2) There shall be filed with the petition certified copies of any orders terminating parental rights. Any consent to adoption shall be filed prior to the entry of the adoption judgment.

(3) If the petitioner was not excepted by KRS 199.470(4) or (5), a copy of the written approval of the secretary of the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~] or the secretary's designee shall be filed with the petition.

Section 141. KRS 199.500 is amended to read as follows:

(1) An adoption shall not be granted without the voluntary and informed consent of the living parent or parents of a child born in lawful wedlock or the mother of the child born out of wedlock, or the father of the child born out of wedlock if paternity is established in a legal action or if an affidavit is filed stating that the affiant is the father of the child, except that the consent of the living parent or parents shall not be required if:

(a) The parent or parents have been adjudged mentally disabled and the judgment shall have been in effect for not less than one (1) year prior to the filing of the petition for adoption;

(b) The parental rights of the parents have been terminated under KRS Chapter 625;

(c) The living parents are divorced and the parental rights of one (1) parent have been terminated under KRS Chapter 625 and consent has been given by the parent having custody and control of the child; or

(d) The biological parent has not established parental rights as required by KRS 625.065.

(2) A minor parent who is a party defendant may consent to an adoption but a guardian ad litem for the parent shall be appointed.

(3) In the case of a child twelve (12) years of age or older, the consent of the child shall be given in court. The court in its discretion may waive this requirement.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, an adoption may be granted without the consent of the biological living parents of a child if it is pleaded and proved as a part of the adoption proceedings that any of the provisions of KRS 625.090 exist with respect to the[~~such~~] child.

(5) An adoption shall not be granted or a consent for adoption be held valid if the consent for adoption is given prior to seventy-two (72) hours after the birth of the child. A voluntary and informed consent may be taken at seventy-two (72) hours after the birth of the child and shall become final and irrevocable twenty (20) days after either the interstate or the intrastate placement approval by the secretary of the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~], or twenty (20) days after the execution of the consent if placement approval was given prior to the signing of the consent, if approval is required.

Section 142. KRS 199.555 is amended to read as follows:

(1) A "special needs child" means:

(a) A child which the state has determined cannot or should not be returned to the home of the child's[~~his~~] parents; and

(b) A child which the state has first determined:

1. That there exists a specific factor or condition the existence of which leads to the reasonable conclusion that the child cannot be placed with adoptive parents without providing adoption assistance under this section or medical assistance under Title XIX; and

2. That except where it would be against the best interests of the child because of such factors as the existence of significant emotional ties with prospective adoptive parents while in the care of these[~~such~~] parents as a foster child, a reasonable, but unsuccessful, effort has been made to place the child with appropriate adoptive parents without providing adoption assistance under this section or medical assistance under Title XIX.

(2) "State-funded adoption assistance" means payment of monthly maintenance to assist in meeting the special needs of a child which was placed by the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~]. The state-funded adoption assistance shall also include payment of nonrecurring adoption expenses, and may include reimbursement of extraordinary medical expenses.

(3) "Nonrecurring adoption expenses" means those expenses which are incurred in the legal adoption of a special needs child for which parents are ultimately responsible which include reasonable and necessary adoption fees, court costs, attorney fees, and other expenses which are directly related to the special needs adoption and which are not incurred in violation of state or federal law.

(4) "Extraordinary medical expenses" means those expenses which are related to the child's special needs which existed prior to the adoption and are not reimbursed by private insurance, Medicaid, or other third-party payors or government programs.

(5) If the secretary of the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~] or his designated representative finds that a child may benefit from being adopted and that the payment of a subsidy to adoptive parents after the adoption will increase the likelihood of adoption, funds may be paid to the adoptive parents after completion of the adoption of the child if the following conditions exist:

(a) The child was considered a special needs child prior to the adoption;

(b) The child is committed to the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~] and the cabinet has authority to consent to the child's adoption; and

(c) The adoptive parents can give suitable care to the child if a subsidy is paid.

(6) Agreements for the payments of funds under this section shall be made prior to the adoption of the child. However, if the secretary for families and children[~~human resources~~] or his designated representative finds that the adoption is likely to disrupt, extraordinary medical expenses may be reimbursed contingent upon availability of resources, if the following conditions exist:

(a) The child was placed for adoption by the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~];

(b) The child was considered a special needs child prior to the adoption;

(c) The parents have made a reasonable effort under the circumstances to meet the needs of the child without reimbursement for extraordinary medical expenses.

This subsection shall apply to any child meeting the conditions of this subsection who at the time of application for the post-adoption extraordinary medical expenses is under the age of eighteen (18). This subsection shall have retroactive as well as prospective effect.

(7) The payments shall be out of funds appropriated to the cabinet and those funds collected pursuant to KRS 199.473(5) which shall be deposited in a restricted account for the purpose of subsidizing special needs adoptions, and shall be in accordance with regulations promulgated by the secretary. The payments shall not exceed the amount which would be paid for foster care for the child. Monthly maintenance payments shall not exceed the amount which would be paid for foster care for the child and may include reimbursement for extraordinary medical expenses. Payment of nonrecurring adoption expenses shall only be reimbursed up to the limit established by the secretary for families and children[~~human resources~~] in accord with 42 U.S.C. sec. 673. However, payments under agreements entered into under subsection (6) of this section shall be limited to reimbursement of authorized extraordinary medical expenses related to problems or conditions that existed prior to the adoption.

(c) The cabinet determines that the child is no longer receiving any support from the parents.

(9) Parents who have been receiving adoption assistance payments under this section shall keep the cabinet informed of circumstances which would, pursuant to subsection (8) of this section, make them ineligible for assistance, or eligible for assistance in a different amount.

(10) The cabinet shall establish criteria to be followed for the adoption of children under provisions of this section and shall promulgate the criteria by administrative regulations.

Section 143. KRS 199.557 is amended to read as follows:

(1) For the purpose of this section, unless the context requires otherwise, "Federal Title IV-E adoption assistance" means the payment of monthly maintenance to assist in meeting the special needs of the child and of nonrecurring adoption expenses which include reasonable and necessary adoption fees, court costs, attorney fees, and other expenses which are directly related to legal adoption of a special needs child and which are not incurred in violation of state or federal law.

(2) If the secretary of the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~] or his designated representative finds that payment of a subsidy to adoptive parents after the adoption will increase the likelihood of the[~~such~~] adoption, funds may be paid to the adoptive parents after conclusion of the adoption if the child meets the eligibility criteria established at 42 U.S.C. sec. 673.

(3) Agreements for Federal Title IV-E adoption assistance under this section shall be made prior to the adoption of the child.

(4) Payment shall be out of funds appropriated to the cabinet and Federal Title IV-E funds of the Social Security Act as amended (42 U.S.C. sec. 673 et seq.). All payments shall be in accordance with administrative regulations promulgated by the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~]. Section 144. KRS 199.570 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The files and records of the court during adoption proceedings shall not be open to inspection by persons other than parties to the[~~such~~] proceedings, their attorneys, and representatives of the cabinet except under order of the court expressly permitting inspection. Upon the entry of the final order in the case, the clerk shall place all papers and records in the case in a suitable envelope which shall be sealed and shall not be open for inspection by any person except on written order of the court, except that upon the written consent of the biological parents and upon written order of the Circuit Court all papers and records including all files and records of the Circuit Court during proceedings for termination of parental rights provided in KRS 625.108 shall be open for inspection to any adult adopted person who applies in person or in writing to the Circuit Court as provided in KRS 199.572. No person having charge of any adoption records shall disclose the names of any parties appearing in such records or furnish any copy of any such records, except upon order of the court which entered the judgment of adoption. Health information received pursuant to KRS 199.525 shall be added to the adoption case file. The clerk of the Circuit Court shall set up a separate docket and order book for adoption cases and these files and records shall be kept locked.

(2) After entry of the adoption judgment, the clerk of the Circuit Court shall promptly report to the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] of Kentucky full information as called for on forms furnished by the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~], necessary to make a new birth certificate conforming to the standard birth certificate form. Upon receipt of this information, the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] shall cause to be made a new record of the birth and it shall be filed with the original certificate, and the original certificate shall be stamped with the words, "CONFIDENTIAL -- subject to copy and/or inspection only on written order of the court."

(3) The new certificate shall set forth the new name, if any, of the adopted child, the names of the adoptive parents and such other information deemed necessary in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] in issuing of birth certificates. If the adopted child is under eighteen (18) years of age, the birth certificate shall not contain any information revealing the child is adopted and shall show the adoptive parent or parents as the biological parent or parents of the child. If requested by the adoptive parents, the new birth certificate when issued shall contain the location of birth, hospital, and name of doctor or midwife. This information should be given only by an order of the court in which the child was adopted. The new birth certificate shall recite the residence of the adoptive parents as the birthplace of the child and this shall be deemed for all legal purposes to be the birthplace of the child. If no birth certificate is on file for a child born in Kentucky, the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] shall prepare a certificate of birth in accordance with the information furnished the cabinet by the clerk of the Circuit Court which issued the adoption order. The Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] shall furnish to the clerks of the Circuit Courts the necessary forms to carry out the provisions of this section. If the child was born in another state, the order of adoption shall be forwarded to the division of vital statistics of the state concerned to be changed in accordance with the laws of such state. If the child was born in a foreign country, the report of adoption shall be returned to the attorney or agency handling the adoption for submission to the appropriate federal agency.

(4) Thereafter when any copy of the certificate of birth of any child is issued it shall be a copy of the new certificate of birth, except when an order of the court granting the judgment of adoption shall request the issuance of the copy of the original certificate of the[~~ such~~] child's birth.

(5) If any judgment of adoption is reversed, modified, or vacated in any particular, the clerk of the Circuit Court shall notify the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] of the reversal or modification and the effect of same, and the cabinet shall make any necessary changes in its records.

Section 145. KRS 199.572 is amended to read as follows:

(1) At the time the biological parents give up the child for adoption, they shall be asked by the cabinet whether they consent to the inspection of the adoption records, to personal contact by the child, or to both when he becomes an adult. If consent is then given, it can later be revoked. If consent is withheld at that time, the biological parents may give consent at any later time. The initial written statement of consent or refusal of consent to inspection of records and personal contact shall be filed with the Circuit Court not later than the date of finalization of the adoption proceedings. When a written consent is on file, the records shall be available to the adult adopted person, upon his request therefor in writing.

(2) When any adult adopted person applies in person or in writing to the Circuit Court for authorization to inspect all papers and records pertaining to the adoption proceedings of that adult[~~such~~] adopted person as provided in KRS 199.570(1), and the biological parents have previously refused consent to inspection of records and to personal contact, the court may, if satisfied as to the identity of the[~~such~~] adult adopted person, authorize the adult adopted person to inspect the papers and records if written consent is obtained from the biological parents identified on the adult adopted person's original birth certificate.

(3) The Circuit Court shall, within seven (7) working days of the receipt of the request, direct the secretary of the cabinet to notify each biological parent identified on the adult adopted person's original birth certificate that the[~~said~~] person has applied to the court for information identifying the[~~such~~] biological parent. Within six (6) months of receiving the notice of the request of the adult adopted person, the secretary of the cabinet shall make complete and reasonable efforts to notify each biological parent identified on the adult adopted person's original birth certificate. The secretary may charge a reasonable fee not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars ($250) to the adult adopted person for making this[~~such a~~] search. Every child-caring facility and child-placing agency in the Commonwealth shall cooperate with the secretary in his efforts to notify these[~~such~~] biological parents.

(4) The notification of the biological parents shall not be by mail and shall be by personal and confidential contact. The notification shall be done without disclosing the identity of the adult adopted person. The personal and confidential contact with the biological parents shall be evidenced by filing with the Circuit Court an affidavit of notification executed by the person who notified each parent and certifying each parent was given the following information:

(a) The nature of the information requested by the adult adopted person;

(b) The date of the request of the adult adopted person;

(c) The right of the biological parent to file, within sixty (60) days of receipt of the notice, an affidavit with the Circuit Court stating that the adult adopted person shall be authorized to inspect all papers and records pertaining to his adoption proceedings;

(d) The right of the biological parent to file at any time an affidavit authorizing the adult adopted person to inspect all papers and records pertaining to his adoption proceedings; and

(e) The right of a biological parent to file an affidavit with the Circuit Court stating that all papers and records pertaining to the adoption proceedings of the adult adopted person shall not be open for inspection by the adult adopted person.

(5) The adult adopted person shall not be authorized to inspect the papers and records pertaining to his or her adoption proceedings unless those biological parents identified on the original birth certificate agree in writing to that[~~such~~] inspection.

(6) If after diligent and reasonable effort, the secretary of the cabinet certifies that both biological parents identified in the original birth certificate are deceased or the secretary is unable to locate said parents, then a judge of the Circuit Court, upon motion of the adult adopted person, may order that all papers and records of the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~] and those of the Circuit Court pertaining to the adoption shall be open for inspection to the[~~such~~] adult adopted person. In any case, the court shall order that only identifying information about the biological parents be shared with the adult adopted person.

(1) In all cases, an adopted person eighteen (18) years of age or older or a pre-adoptive sibling eighteen (18) years of age or older of an adopted person may file information concerning himself, his present location, and his known antecedents with the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~], stating his interest in being reunited with his pre-adoptive siblings and authorizing the cabinet to release such information to his pre-adoptive siblings who may make similar inquiry.

(2) In any case in which a person eighteen (18) years of age or older requests information about or expresses a desire in being reunited with a pre-adoptive sibling, the cabinet shall first determine whether such sibling has made similar inquiry pursuant to subsection (1) of this section. This subsection shall not be construed to limit the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~] in carrying out its public assistance under Title IV-A of the federal Social Security Act[~~Aid to Dependent Children~~] Program in accordance with KRS Chapter 205. This section shall not be construed to prohibit private independent adoption or the right to seek legal services relating to a private independent adoption.

(4) A person, agency, institution, or intermediary shall not be a party to a contract or agreement which would compensate a woman for her artificial insemination and subsequent termination of parental rights to a child born as a result of that artificial insemination. A person, agency, institution, or intermediary shall not receive compensation for the facilitation of contracts or agreements as proscribed by this subsection. Contracts or agreements entered into in violation of this subsection shall be void.

(2) To implement the provisions of this section the cabinet shall establish preadmission screening teams composed of a nurse, social worker and physician.

Payment to a dentist of any Medical Assistance Program benefits for complete upper and lower dentures shall only be provided on the condition of a preauthorized agreement between an authorized representative of the Medical Assistance Program and the dentist prior to the removal of the teeth. The selection of another class or other classes of medical care shall be recommended by the council to the secretary for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ after taking into consideration, among other things, the amount of federal and state funds available, the most essential needs of recipients, and the meeting of such need on a basis insuring the greatest amount of medical care as defined in KRS 205.510 consonant with the funds available, including, but not limited to, the following categories, except where the aid is for the purpose of obtaining an abortion:

Eyeglasses shall be provided only to children under age twenty-one (21);

(f) Drugs on the prescription of a physician used to prevent the rejection of transplanted organs if the patient is indigent;

(g) Nonprofit neighborhood health organizations or clinics where some or all of the medical services are provided by licensed registered nurses or by advanced medical students presently enrolled in a medical school accredited by the Association of American Medical Colleges and where the students or licensed registered nurses are under the direct supervision of a licensed physician who rotates his services in this supervisory capacity between two (2) or more of the nonprofit neighborhood health organizations or clinics specified in this paragraph~~[herein]~~;

(h) Services provided by health care delivery networks as defined in KRS 216.900; and

It shall be one (1) of the functions of the council to make recommendations to the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ with respect to the bases for payment. In determining the rates of reimbursement for long-term care facilities participating in the Medical Assistance Program, the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ shall, to the extent permitted by federal law, not allow the following items to be considered as a cost to the facility for purposes of reimbursement:

(a) Motor vehicles that are not owned by the facility, including motor vehicles that are registered or owned by the facility but used primarily by the owner or family members thereof;

(b) The cost of motor vehicles, including vans or trucks, used for facility business shall be allowed up to fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) per facility, adjusted annually for inflation according to the increase in the consumer price index-u for the most recent twelve (12) month period, as determined by the U. S. Department of Labor. Medically equipped motor vehicles, vans or trucks shall be exempt from the fifteen thousand dollar ($15,000) limitation. Costs exceeding this limit shall not be reimbursable and shall be borne by the facility. Costs for additional motor vehicles, not to exceed a total of three (3) per facility, may be approved by the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ if the facility demonstrates that each additional vehicle is necessary for the operation of the facility as required by regulations of the cabinet;

(c) Salaries paid to immediate family members of the owner or administrator, or both, of a facility, to the extent that services are not actually performed and are not a necessary function as required by regulation of the cabinet for the operation of the facility. The facility shall keep a record of all work actually performed by family members;

(d) The cost of contracts, loans, or other payments made by the facility to owners, administrators or both, unless the payments are for services which would otherwise be necessary to the operation of the facility and the services are required by regulations of the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~]. Any other payments shall be deemed part of the owner's compensation in accordance with maximum limits established by regulations of the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~]. Interest paid to the facility for loans made to a third party may be used to offset allowable interest claimed by the facility;

(e) Private club memberships for owners or administrators, travel expenses for trips outside the state for owners or administrators, and other indirect payments made to the owner, unless the payments are deemed part of the owner's compensation in accordance with maximum limits established by regulations of the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~]; and

(f) Payments made to related organizations supplying the facility with goods or services shall be limited to the actual cost of the goods or services to the related organization, unless it can be demonstrated that no relationship between the facility and the supplier exists. A relationship shall be considered to exist when an individual, including brothers, sisters, father, mother, aunts, uncles, and in-laws, possesses a total of five percent (5%) or more of ownership equity in the facility and the supplying business. An exception to the relationship shall exist if fifty-one percent (51%) or more of the supplier's business activity of the type carried on with the facility is transacted with persons and organizations other than the facility and its related organizations.

(3) No vendor payment shall be made unless the class and type of medical care rendered and the cost basis therefor has first been designated by regulation.

(4) The rules and regulations of the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] shall require that a written statement, including the required opinion of a physician, shall accompany any claim for reimbursement for induced premature births. This statement shall indicate the procedures used in providing the medical services.

(5) The range of medical care benefit standards, provided and the quality and quantity standards and the methods for determining cost formulae for vendor payments within each category of public assistance and other recipients shall be uniform for the entire state, and shall be designated by regulation promulgated within the limitations established by the Social Security Act and federal regulations. It shall not be necessary that the amount of payments for units of services be uniform for the entire state but amounts may vary from county to county and from city to city, as well as among hospitals, based on the prevailing cost of medical care in each locale and other local economic and geographic conditions, except that insofar as allowed by applicable federal law and regulation, the maximum amounts reimbursable for similar services rendered by physicians within the same specialty of medical practice shall not vary according to the physician's place of residence or place of practice, as long as the place of practice is within the boundaries of the state.

(6) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to deprive a woman of all appropriate medical care necessary to prevent her physical death.

(7) To the extent permitted by federal law, no medical assistance recipient shall be recertified as qualifying for a level of long-term care below the recipient's current level, unless the recertification includes a physical examination conducted by a physician licensed pursuant to KRS Chapter 311 or by an advance registered nurse practitioner licensed pursuant to KRS Chapter 314 and acting under the physician's supervision.

(8) If payments made to community mental health centers, established pursuant to KRS Chapter 210, for services provided to the mentally retarded exceed the actual cost of providing the service, the balance of the payments shall be used solely for the provision of other services to the mentally retarded through community mental health centers.

(9) No long-term care facility, as defined in KRS 216.510, providing inpatient care to recipients of medical assistance under Title XIX of the Social Security Act on July 15, 1986, shall deny admission of a person to a bed certified for reimbursement under the provisions of the Medical Assistance Program solely on the basis of the person's paying status as a Medicaid recipient. No person shall be removed or discharged from any facility solely because they became eligible for participation in the Medical Assistance Program, unless the facility can demonstrate the resident or the resident's responsible party was fully notified in writing that the resident was being admitted to a bed not certified for Medicaid reimbursement. No facility may decertify a bed occupied by a Medicaid recipient or may decertify a bed that is occupied by a resident who has made application for medical assistance.

(10) Family practice physicians practicing in geographic areas with no more than one (1) primary care physician per five thousand (5,000) population, as reported by the United States Department of Health and Human Services, shall be reimbursed one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) of the standard reimbursement rate for physician services.

(11) The Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] may make payments under the Medical Assistance program for services which are within the lawful scope of practice of a chiropractor licensed pursuant to KRS Chapter 312, to the extent the Medical Assistance Program pays for the same services provided by a physician.

   (a) To permit the parent to enroll under the family coverage any child who is otherwise eligible for the coverage without regard to any enrollment season restrictions;
   (b) If a parent is enrolled but fails to make application to obtain coverage for the child, to enroll the child under family coverage upon application by the child's other parent, custodial parent, or by the Cabinet for Families and Children~~[Human Resources]~~; and

   (b) The employer has eliminated family health coverage for all of its employees; and

(b) The injured, diseased, or disabled person may proceed in his own name, collecting costs without the necessity of joining the cabinet or the Commonwealth as a named party, provided the injured, diseased, or disabled person shall notify the cabinet of the action or proceeding entered into upon commencement of the action or proceeding. The injured, diseased, or disabled person must notify the cabinet of any settlement or judgment of his or her claim.

(c) In the case of an applicant for or recipient of medical assistance whose eligibility is based on deprivation of parental care or support due to absence of a parent from the home, the cabinet may:

(4) Not later than the fifteenth day of each calendar month or more frequently, the clerk of the court shall forward to the state registrar reports of decrees of adoption, annulments of adoption, and amendments of decrees of adoption which were entered in the preceding month, together with such related reports as the state registrar shall require.

(5) If the state registrar receives a report of adoption, annulment of adoption, or amendment of a decree of adoption for a person born outside this state, the state registrar shall forward the report to the state registrar in the state of birth. If the birth occurred in a foreign country and the child was not a citizen of the United States at the time of birth, the state registrar shall prepare a record of foreign birth as provided by KRS 213.056(2). If the child was born in Canada, the state registrar shall also send a copy of the report of adoption, annulment of adoption, or amendment of a decree of adoption to the appropriate registration authority in that country.

Section 386. KRS 213.076 is amended to read as follows:

(1) A certificate of death or a provisional certificate of death for each death which occurs in the Commonwealth shall be filed with the cabinet or as otherwise directed by the state registrar prior to final disposition, and it shall be registered if it has been completed and filed in accordance with this section. The funeral director, or person acting as such, who first takes custody of a dead body shall be responsible for filing the certificate of death. The funeral director, or person acting as such shall obtain the required personal and statistical particulars from the person best qualified to supply them over the signature and address of the informant. The funeral director, or person acting as such, shall within five (5) days of the death, present the certificate to the attending physician, if any, or to the health officer or coroner as directed by the state registrar, for the medical certificate of the cause of death and other particulars necessary to complete the record as required by this chapter.

(a) It shall be unlawful for an institution to release a dead human body until the funeral director, or person acting as such, has completed and filed with the local registrar or person in charge of the institution, a provisional certificate of death. If death occurs outside an institution, the provisional certificate shall be filed with the local registrar by the funeral director, or person acting as such, prior to final disposition of the dead body. A copy of the provisional certificate of death signed by the person with whom it was filed, shall constitute authority for the possession, transportation, and, except for cremation, final disposition of the body.

(b) All persons having in their possession a completed provisional certificate of death shall file the certificate at not more than weekly intervals with the local registrar.

(c) If the place of death is unknown but the dead body is found in the Commonwealth, the certificate of death shall be completed and filed in accordance with this section. The place where the body is found shall be shown as the place of death. If the date of death is unknown, it shall be determined by approximation subject to amendment upon completion of any postmortem examination required to be performed.

(d) If death occurs in a moving conveyance in the United States and the body is first removed from the conveyance in the Commonwealth, the death shall be registered in Kentucky, and the place where it is first removed shall be considered the place of death. If a death occurs on a moving conveyance while in international waters or air space or in a foreign country or its air space and the body is first removed from the conveyance in the Commonwealth, the death shall be registered in Kentucky, but the certificate shall show the actual place of death insofar as can be determined.

(2) If any certificate of death is incomplete or unsatisfactory, the state registrar shall call attention to the defects in the certificate and require the person responsible for the entry to complete or correct it. The state registrar may also require additional information about the circumstances and medical conditions surrounding a death in order to properly code and classify the underlying cause.

(3) The medical certification shall be completed, signed, and returned to the funeral director within five (5) working days after presentation to the physician, dentist, or chiropractor in charge of the patient's care for the illness or condition which resulted in death, except when inquiry is required by KRS 72.400 to 72.475. In such cases, the coroner shall complete and sign the certificate within five (5) days after receiving results of the inquiry as required by KRS 72.400 to 72.475. In the absence of the physician, dentist, or chiropractor, or with such person's approval, the certificate may be completed and signed by his associate physician, dentist, or chiropractor, or the chief medical officer of the institution in which death occurred, or the physician who performed an autopsy upon the decedent, or a physician employed by the local health department, if the individual has access to the medical history of the case and death is due to natural causes.

(4) If death occurs more than thirty-six (36) hours after the decedent was last treated or attended by a physician, dentist, or chiropractor, the case shall be referred to the coroner for investigation to determine and certify the cause of death. In the event that a coroner is not available to sign the certificate and there is no duly appointed deputy, the county judge/executive shall appoint a competent person to investigate the death and certify to its cause.

(5) The physician, dentist, chiropractor, or coroner who certifies to the cause of death shall return the certificate to the funeral director, or person acting as such, who, in turn, shall file the certificate directly with the Office of Vital Statistics. Any certified copies of the record requested at the time of filing shall be issued in not more than two (2) working days.

(6) The Office of Vital Statistics shall provide self-addressed, color-coded envelopes for the funeral homes in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

(7) Three (3) free verification of death statements shall be provided to the funeral director by the Office of Vital Statistics for every death in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

(8) The body of any person whose death occurs in Kentucky shall not be interred, deposited in a vault or tomb, cremated or otherwise disposed of, or removed from or into any registration district, until a provisional certificate of death has been filed with the local registrar of the registration district in which the death occurs. If the death occurred from a disease declared by the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] to be infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, no permit for the removal or other disposition of the body shall be granted by the registrar except under conditions prescribed by the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] and the local health department. The Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] shall identify by regulation those communicable diseases which require blood and body fluid precautions. If a person who has been diagnosed as being infected with a communicable disease for which blood and body fluid precautions are required, dies within a health facility as defined in KRS 216B.015, the facility shall notify any embalmer or funeral director to whom the body will be transported of the need for such precautions. The notice shall be provided by including the statement "Blood and Body Fluid Precautions" on the provisional report of death form as prescribed by the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~]. Lack of this notice shall not relieve any embalmer or funeral director from taking universal blood and body fluid precautions as are recommended by the United States Department of Health and Human Services, Centers for Disease Control for Morticians' Services. No embalmer or funeral director shall charge more for embalming the remains of a person with a communicable disease which requires blood and body fluid precautions than the price for embalming services listed on the price list funeral providers are required to maintain and provide to consumers pursuant to 16 C.F.R. Sec. 453.2 (1988).

(9) A burial-transit permit for the final disposition issued under the law of another state which accompanies a dead body or fetus brought into the Commonwealth shall be the authority for final disposition of the body or fetus in the Commonwealth and may be accepted in lieu of a certificate of death. There shall be noted on the face of the record made for return to the local registrar that the body was shipped to Kentucky for interment and the actual place of death.

(10) Nothing in this section shall be construed to delay, beyond a reasonable time, the interment or other disposition of a body unless the services of the coroner or the health officer are required or the Department for Public Health[~~ Services~~] deems it necessary for the protection of the public health. If compliance with this section would result in unreasonable delay in the disposition of the body the funeral director, or person acting as such, shall file with the local registrar or deputy registrar prior to interment a provisional certificate of death which shall contain the name, date and place of death of the deceased, the name of the medical certifier, and an agreement to furnish within ten (10) days a complete and satisfactory certificate of death.

(11) No sexton or other person in charge of any place in which interment or other disposition of dead bodies is made shall inter or allow interment or other disposition of a dead body or fetus unless it is accompanied by a copy of the provisional certificate of death. The sexton, or if there is no sexton, the funeral director, or person acting as such, shall enter on the provisional certificate over his signature, the date, place, and manner of final disposition and file the certificate within five (5) days with the local registrar.

(12) Authorization for disinterment, transportation, and reinterment or other disposition shall be required prior to disinterment of any human remains. The authorization shall be issued by the state registrar upon proper application. The provisions of this subsection shall apply to all manners of disposition except cremation and without regard for the time and place of death. The provisions of KRS 381.765 shall not apply to remains removed for scientific study and the advancement of knowledge.

(13) After a death certificate has been on file for five (5) years, it may not be changed in any manner except upon order of a court. Prior to that time, requests for corrections, amendments, or additions shall be accompanied by prima facie evidence which supports the requested change.

Section 387. KRS 213.111 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of KRS 311.300 to 311.350, any hospital or institution of higher learning may make application to any medical school incorporated within the Commonwealth for the loan of unclaimed whole dead bodies or parts thereof for educational or scientific purposes if the approval of the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] has first been obtained. Approval shall be granted or denied by the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] on the basis of proposed use, need, qualification of personnel, and adequacy of equipment and facilities.

(2) A special transit permit shall be obtained for the transportation of the dead bodies or parts thereof from the state registrar. Transportation and the ultimate burial of all the bodies or parts thereof shall be in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and KRS 311.340.

(3) All approved recipients shall keep a record of all bodies received by them and comply with all other regulations of the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~].

The county clerk shall collect from the applicants for a marriage license at the time the license is issued one dollar ($1), which shall constitute the clerk's fee for forwarding the required information to the state registrar.

(3) A marriage record not filed within the time prescribed by this section may be registered in accordance with administrative regulations adopted by the cabinet.

(4) In all actions for dissolution of marriage, the petitioner, or the petitioner's attorney or legal representative, shall file, concurrently with the petition, the information requested on forms prescribed and furnished by the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~]. The provisions of the information shall be prerequisite to the issuance of a final decree in the matter by the court.

(5) Each Circuit Court clerk shall, within forty-five (45) days after entry of a final judgment of divorce, absolute or limited, or annulment of marriage, complete the form prescribed and furnished by the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] and forward it to the state registrar.

Section 389. KRS 213.131 is amended to read as follows:

(1) To protect the integrity of vital records, to insure their proper use, and to insure the efficient and proper administration of the system of vital statistics, it shall be unlawful for any person to permit inspection of, or to disclose information contained in vital records or to copy or issue a copy of all or part of any record except as authorized by this chapter, by regulation, or by order of a court of competent jurisdiction. Administrative regulations adopted by the cabinet shall provide for adequate standards of security and confidentiality of vital records and shall conform to subsection (4) of this section.

(2) The state registrar shall prepare annually an alphabetical list of all persons registered as born in the preceding year. The list shall show the person's name, the mother's maiden name, and the date and county of birth. This list shall be an open record subject to inspection by the public upon request.

(3) The state registrar shall prepare annually an alphabetical list of all persons registered who die in the Commonwealth. This list shall show the name of the deceased and the date and county of death and shall be an open record subject to inspection by the public upon request.

(4) The Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~] may authorize by regulation the disclosure of information contained in vital records for research and official administrative purposes, if:

  (a) All information identifying persons named on the certificate is withheld or removed;

  (b) The information is requested by a federal, state, county, or municipal agency of government which needs the data or information in the conduct of official duties; or

  (c) The cabinet has prepared, in writing, a statement of the conditions under which the data or records will be used and received an agreement signed by a responsible agent of the research organization agreeing to meet with and conform to the conditions.

(5) If one hundred (100) years have elapsed after the date of birth, or fifty (50) years have elapsed after the date of death, the records of these events in the custody of the state registrar shall become public records and information shall be made available in accordance with regulations which shall provide for continued safekeeping of the records.

Section 390. KRS 213.141 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the cabinet shall prescribe by regulation a fee not to exceed five dollars ($5), to be paid for certified copies of certificates or records, or for a search of the files or records when no copy is made, or for copies or information provided for research, statistical, or administrative purposes.

(2) The cabinet shall prescribe by administrative regulation pursuant to KRS Chapter 13A a fee not to exceed nine dollars ($9) to be paid for a certified copy of a record of a birth, three dollars ($3) of which shall be used by the Cabinet for Health Services or the Cabinet for Families and Children~~[Human Resources]~~ for the sole purpose of contracting for the operation of private, not-for-profit, self-help, education, and support groups for parents who want to prevent or cease physical, sexual, or mental abuse of children.

(3) Fees collected under this section by the state registrar shall be used to help defray the cost of administering the system of vital statistics.

(4) No fee or compensation shall be allowed or paid for furnishing certificates of birth or death required in support of any claim against the government for compensation, insurance, back pay, or other allowances or benefits for any person who has at any time served as a member of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Air Force of the United States.

(5) The cabinet shall notify the State Board of Elections monthly of the name, address, birthdate, sex, race, and Social Security number of residents of the Commonwealth who died during the previous month. This data shall include only those persons who were over the age of eighteen (18) years at the date of death. No fee or compensation shall be allowed for furnishing these lists.

Section 391. KRS 213.161 is amended to read as follows:

(1) In order to obtain information which may be useful to research organizations studying the causes and incidence of the sudden infant death syndrome, a program is hereby established in the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~. The purpose of this program shall be to obtain factual information concerning the characteristics, incidence, and distribution of the sudden infant death syndrome throughout the Commonwealth and to provide a means of public education concerning any research findings which may lead to the possible means of prevention, early identification, and treatment of children susceptible to the sudden infant death syndrome.

(2) In instances where an ostensibly healthy child dies suddenly and unexpectedly with no known or apparent cause as determined by a physician or a coroner, an autopsy with the written approval of the parents or legal guardian of the child shall be performed within forty-eight (48) hours and the results reported to the cabinet and to the parents or legal guardian of the child.

(3) In order to implement the provisions of this section, the secretary of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ shall:

(a) Promulgate administrative regulations as may be necessary in order to obtain in proper form all information relating to the occurrence of sudden infant deaths which is relevant and appropriate for the establishment of a reliable statistical index of the incidence, distribution, and characteristics of cases of the sudden infant death syndrome;~~[and]~~

(b) Collect such factual information from physicians, coroners, medical examiners, hospitals, and public health officials who have examined any child known or believed to have the sudden infant death syndrome;~~[and]~~

Every physician shall report all diseases designated by regulation of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ as reportable which are under his special treatment to the local board of health of his county, and every head of a family shall report any of said diseases, when known by him to exist in his family, to the local board or to some member thereof in accordance with the regulations of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~.

Section 393. KRS 214.020 is amended to read as follows:

When the Cabinet for Health Services~~[human resources]~~ believes that there is a probability that any infectious or contagious disease will invade this state, it shall take such action and adopt and enforce such rules and regulations as it deems efficient in preventing the introduction or spread of such infectious or contagious disease or diseases within this state, and to accomplish these objects shall establish and strictly maintain quarantine and isolation at such places as it deems proper.

Section 394. KRS 214.034 is amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in KRS 214.036:

(1) All parents, guardians, and other persons having care, custody, or control of any child shall have the child tested for tuberculosis and immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, pertussis, measles, rubella, mumps, hepatitis B, and haemophilis influenzae disease in accordance with testing and immunization schedules established by regulations of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~. Additional immunizations may be required by the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ through the promulgation of an administrative regulation pursuant to KRS Chapter 13A if recommended by the United States Public Health Service or the American Academy of Pediatrics. All parents, guardians, and other persons having care, custody, or control of any child shall also have any child found to be infected with tuberculosis tested, examined, and treated according to administrative regulations of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ promulgated under KRS Chapter 13A. The persons shall also have booster immunizations administered to the child in accordance with the regulations of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~.

(3) All public or private primary or secondary schools, and preschool programs shall require a current immunization certificate for any child enrolled as a regular attendee, as provided by administrative regulation of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~, promulgated under KRS Chapter 13A, to be on file within two (2) weeks of the child's attendance.

(4) For each child cared for in a day care center, certified family child care home, or any other licensed facility which cares for children, a current immunization certificate, as provided by administrative regulation of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~, promulgated under KRS Chapter 13A, shall be on file in the center, home, or facility within thirty (30) days of entrance into the program or admission to the facility.

(5) Any forms relating to exemption from immunization requirements shall be available at public or private primary or secondary schools, preschool programs, day care centers, certified family child care homes, or other licensed facilities which care for children.

Section 395. KRS 214.036 is amended to read as follows:

Nothing contained in KRS 158.035, 214.010, 214.020, 214.032 to 214.036, and 214.990 shall be construed to require the testing for tuberculosis or the immunization of any child at a time when, in the written opinion of his attending physician, such testing or immunization would be injurious to the child's health. Nor shall KRS 158.035, 214.010, 214.020, 214.032 to 214.036, and 214.990 be construed to require the immunization of any child whose parents are opposed to medical immunization against disease, and who object by a written sworn statement to the immunization of such child on religious grounds. Provided, however, that in the event of an epidemic in a given area, the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ may, by emergency regulation, require the immunization of all persons within the area of epidemic, against the disease responsible for such epidemic.

Section 396. KRS 214.155 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The administrative officer or other person in charge of each institution caring for infants twenty-eight (28) days or less of age and the person required in pursuance of the provisions of KRS 213.046 shall register the birth of a child, and cause to have administered to every such infant or child in its or his care tests for inborn errors of metabolism, including but not limited to phenylketonuria (PKU), in accordance with rules or regulations prescribed by the secretary of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~. Testing, recording, and reporting of the results of such tests shall be performed at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed by the secretary of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ or his designee. The secretary of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ shall by regulation establish and collect fees to cover the cost of analyzing the testing samples for inborn errors of metabolism.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the testing of any child whose parents are members of a nationally recognized and established church or religious denomination, the teachings of which are opposed to medical tests, and who object in writing to the testing of such child on that ground.

Section 397. KRS 214.160 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Every physician and every other person legally permitted to engage in attendance upon a pregnant woman in this state shall take or cause to be taken from the woman a specimen of blood for serological test for syphilis as soon as he is engaged to attend the woman and has reasonable grounds for suspecting that pregnancy exists. If the woman is in labor at the time the diagnosis of pregnancy is made, which may make it inadvisable to obtain a blood specimen at that time, the specimen shall be obtained within ten (10) days after delivery. The specimen of blood shall be submitted to the laboratory of the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ or a laboratory approved by the cabinet, for the purpose of having made a serological test for syphilis. The test shall be of a type approved by the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~.

(2) The Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ shall, as often as necessary, publish a list of the five (5) most frequently abused substances, including alcohol, by pregnant women in the Commonwealth. Any physician and any other person legally permitted to engage in attendance upon a pregnant woman in this state may perform a screening for alcohol or substance dependency or abuse, including a comprehensive history of such behavior. Any physician may administer a toxicology test to a pregnant woman under the physician's care within eight (8) hours after delivery to determine whether there is evidence that she has ingested alcohol, a controlled substance, or a substance identified on the list provided by the cabinet, or if the woman has obstetrical complications that are a medical indication of possible use of any such substance for a nonmedical purpose.

(3) Any physician or person legally permitted to engage in attendance upon a pregnant woman may administer to each newborn infant born under that person's care a toxicology test to determine whether there is evidence of prenatal exposure to alcohol, a controlled substance, or a substance identified on the list provided by the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~, if the attending person has reason to believe based on a medical assessment of the mother or the infant, that the mother used any such substance for a nonmedical purpose during the pregnancy.

(4) The circumstances surrounding any positive toxicology finding shall be evaluated by the attending person to determine if abuse or neglect of the infant, as defined under KRS 600.020(1), has occurred and whether investigation by the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ is necessary.

(5) No prenatal screening for alcohol or other substance abuse or positive toxicology finding shall be used as prosecutorial evidence.

(6) No person shall conduct or cause to be conducted any toxicological test pursuant to this section on any pregnant woman without first informing the pregnant woman of the purpose of the test.

Section 398. KRS 214.170 is amended to read as follows:

Every physician or other person who takes or causes to be taken from a woman in pregnancy, or suspected pregnancy, a blood specimen for serological tests for syphilis, shall identify the specimen as being from a pregnant woman submitting it for tests. The laboratory shall report the result of the test if reactive on forms prepared and furnished by the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ to the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ not later than one (1) week after the examination is made.

Section 399. KRS 214.175 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ may conduct periodic anonymous surveys to determine the prevalence within the Commonwealth of drug and alcohol use during pregnancy. These periodic surveys may include, but are not limited to, toxicology tests to determine the presence of alcohol, controlled substances, or other drugs which have not been prescribed due to medical necessity.

(2) All hospitals and any other health facilities licensed pursuant to KRS Chapter 216B which provide for obstetrical services, including delivery of newborn infants, shall, as a condition of licensure, participate in any periodic surveys conducted by the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ for the purposes of determining the prevalence of alcohol or other substance abuse among pregnant women and newborn infants.

(3) Any surveys conducted pursuant to this section shall be conducted according to guidelines established by the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~. The toxicology test may be performed without a physician's order and without patient or parental consent. For the purpose of this section any toxicology test performed shall be considered medically necessary.

(4) The results of any individual toxicology tests performed pursuant to this section shall remain confidential and shall only be released to the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~. Any results shall be collected and compiled in aggregate form without the name of the hospital, patient, or other means of identifying the individual subject of the test.

(5) No test result obtained pursuant to this section shall be admissible in any court or other hearing as evidence in any proceeding, criminal or civil, against the individual subject of the test.

(6) No hospital shall incur any liability, except for negligence, for performing any test required or authorized under KRS 214.160 and 214.175 or for reporting the result of the test pursuant to any administrative regulation promulgated by the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ under KRS Chapter 13A in accordance with this section.

(7) The cabinet may use any state appropriation and any gifts, grants, or federal funds that become available for the purposes of implementing the provisions of this section.

Section 400. KRS 214.181 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The General Assembly finds that the use of tests designed to reveal a condition indicative of human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) infection can be a valuable tool in protecting the public health. The General Assembly finds that despite current scientific knowledge that zidovudine (AZT) prolongs the lives of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome victims, and may also be effective when introduced in the early stages of human immunodeficiency virus infection, many members of the public are deterred from seeking testing because they misunderstand the nature of the test or fear that test results will be disclosed without their consent. The General Assembly finds that the public health will be served by facilitating informed, voluntary, and confidential use of tests designed to detect human immunodeficiency virus infection.

(2) A person who has signed a general consent form for the performance of medical procedures and tests is not required to also sign or be presented with a specific consent form relating to medical procedures or tests to determine human immunodeficiency virus infection, antibodies to human immunodeficiency virus, or infection with any other causative agent of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome that will be performed on the person during the time in which the general consent form is in effect. However, a general consent form shall instruct the patient that, as part of the medical procedures or tests, the patient may be tested for human immunodeficiency virus infection, hepatitis, or any other blood-borne infectious disease if a doctor orders the test for diagnostic purposes. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5)(c) of this section, the results of a test or procedure to determine human immunodeficiency virus infection, antibodies to human immunodeficiency virus, or infection with any probable causative agent of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome performed under the authorization of a general consent form shall be used only for diagnostic or other purposes directly related to medical treatment.

(3) In any emergency situation where informed consent of the patient cannot reasonably be obtained before providing health care services, there is no requirement that a health care provider obtain a previous informed consent.

(4) The physician who orders the test pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section, or the attending physician, shall be responsible for informing the patient of the results of the test if the test results are positive for human immunodeficiency virus infection. If the tests are positive, the physician shall also be responsible for either:

(a) Providing information and counseling to the patient concerning his infection or diagnosis and the known medical implications of such status or condition; or

(b) Referring the patient to another appropriate professional or health care facility for the information and counseling.

(5) (a) No person in this state shall perform a test designed to identify the human immunodeficiency virus, or its antigen or antibody, without first obtaining the informed consent of the person upon whom the test is being performed, except as specified in subsections (2) and (3) of this section.

(b) No test result shall be determined as positive, and no positive test result shall be revealed to any person, without corroborating or confirmatory tests being conducted.

(c) No person, who has obtained or has knowledge of a test result pursuant to this section, shall disclose or be compelled to disclose the identity of any person upon whom a test is performed, or the results of the test in a manner which permits identification of the subject of the test, except to the following persons:

1. The subject of the test or the subject's legally authorized representative;

2. Any person designated in a legally effective release of the test results executed prior to or after the test by the subject of the test or the subject's legally authorized representative;

3. A physician, nurse, or other health care personnel who has a legitimate need to know the test result in order to provide for his protection and to provide for the patient's health and welfare;

4. Health care providers consulting between themselves or with health care facilities to determine diagnosis and treatment;

5. The cabinet, in accordance with rules for reporting and controlling the spread of disease, as otherwise provided by state law;

6. A health facility or health care provider which procures, processes, distributes, or uses:

a. A human body part from a deceased person, with respect to medical information regarding that person; or

b. Semen provided prior to the effective date of this section for the purpose of artificial insemination;

7. Health facility staff committees, for the purposes of conducting program monitoring, program evaluation, or service reviews;

8. Authorized medical or epidemiological researchers who shall not further disclose any identifying characteristics or information;

9. A person allowed access by a court order which is issued in compliance with the following provisions:

a. No court of this state shall issue an order to permit access to a test for human immunodeficiency virus performed in a medical or public health setting to any person not authorized by this section or by KRS 214.420. A court may order an individual to be tested for human immunodeficiency virus only if the person seeking the test results has demonstrated a compelling need for the test results which cannot be accommodated by other means. In assessing compelling need, the court shall weigh the need for testing and disclosure against the privacy interest of the test subject and the public interest which may be disserved by disclosure which deters blood, organ, and semen donation and future human immunodeficiency virus-related testing or which may lead to discrimination. This paragraph shall not apply to blood bank donor records;

b. Pleadings pertaining to disclosure of test results shall substitute a pseudonym for the true name of the subject of the test. The disclosure to the parties of the subject's true name shall be communicated confidentially, in documents not filed with the court;

c. Before granting any order, the court shall provide the individual whose test result is in question with notice and a reasonable opportunity to participate in the proceedings if he is not already a party;

d. Court proceedings as to disclosure of test results shall be conducted in camera, unless the subject of the test agrees to a hearing in open court or unless the court determines that a public hearing is necessary to the public interest and the proper administration of justice;

e. Upon the issuance of an order to disclose test results, the court shall impose appropriate safeguards against unauthorized disclosure, which shall specify the persons who may have access to the information, the purposes for which the information shall be used, and appropriate prohibitions on future disclosure.

No person to whom the results of a test have been disclosed shall disclose the test results to another person except as authorized by this subsection. When disclosure is made pursuant to this subsection, it shall be accompanied by a statement in writing which includes the following or substantially similar language: "This information has been disclosed to you from records whose confidentiality is protected by state law. State law prohibits you from making any further disclosure of such information without the specific written consent of the person to whom such information pertains, or as otherwise permitted by state law. A general authorization for the release of medical or other information is NOT sufficient for this purpose." An oral disclosure shall be accompanied by oral notice and followed by a written notice within ten (10) days.

(6) (a) The Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ shall establish a network of voluntary human immunodeficiency virus testing programs in every county in the state. These programs shall be conducted in each public health department established under the provisions of KRS Chapter 211. Additional programs may be contracted to other private providers to the extent that finances permit and local circumstances dictate;

(b) Each public health department shall have the ability to provide counseling and testing for the human immunodeficiency virus to each patient who receives services and shall offer the testing on a voluntary basis to each patient who requests the test;

(c) Each public health department shall provide a program of counseling and testing for human immunodeficiency virus infection, on an anonymous or confidential basis, dependent on the patient's desire. The cabinet shall continue to provide for anonymous testing and counseling;

(d) The result of a serologic test conducted under the auspices of the cabinet shall not be used to determine if a person may be insured for disability, health, or life insurance or to screen or determine suitability for, or to discharge a person from, employment. Any person who violates the provisions of this subsection shall be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

(7) No public health department and no other private or public facility established for the primary purpose of conducting a testing program for acquired immunodeficiency syndrome, acquired immunodeficiency syndrome related complex, or human immunodeficiency virus status without first registering with the cabinet, complying with all other applicable provisions of state law, and meeting the following requirements:

(a) The program shall be directed by a person who has completed an educational course approved by the cabinet in the counseling of persons with acquired immunodeficiency syndrome, acquired immunodeficiency syndrome related complex, or human immunodeficiency virus infection;

(b) The program shall have all medical care supervised by a physician licensed under the provisions of KRS Chapter 311;

(c) The program shall have all laboratory procedures performed in a laboratory licensed under the provisions of KRS Chapter 333;

(d) Informed consent shall be required prior to testing. Informed consent shall be preceded by an explanation of the test, including its purpose, potential uses, and limitations and the meaning of its results;

(e) The program, unless it is a blood donor center, shall provide pretest counseling on the meaning of a test for human immunodeficiency virus, including medical indications for the test; the possibility of false positive or false negative results; the potential need for confirmatory testing; the potential social, medical, and economic consequences of a positive test result; and the need to eliminate high-risk behavior;

(f) The program shall provide supplemental corroborative testing on all positive test results before the results of any positive test is provided to the patient;

(g) The program shall provide post-test counseling, in person, on the meaning of the test results; the possible need for additional testing; the social medical, and economic consequences of a positive test result; and the need to eliminate behavior which might spread the disease to others;

(h) Each person providing post-test counseling to a patient with a positive test result shall receive specialized training, to be specified by regulation of the cabinet, about the special needs of persons with positive results, including recognition of possible suicidal behavior, and shall refer the patient for further health and social services as appropriate;

(i) When services are provided for a charge during pretest counseling, testing, supplemental testing, and post-test counseling, the program shall provide a complete list of all charges to the patient and the cabinet;

(j) Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to require a facility licensed under KRS Chapter 333 or a person licensed under the provisions of KRS Chapters 311, 312 or 313 to register with the cabinet if he does not advertise or hold himself out to the public as conducting testing programs for human immunodeficiency virus infection or specializing in such testing.

(8) Any violation of this section by a licensed health care provider shall be a ground for disciplinary action contained in the professional's respective licensing chapter.

(9) Except as provided in subsection (6)(d) of this section, insurers and others participating in activities related to the insurance application and underwriting process shall be exempt from this section.

(10) The cabinet shall develop a program standards consistent with the provisions of this section for counseling and testing persons for the human immunodeficiency virus.

Section 401. KRS 214.185 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Any physician, upon consultation by a minor as a patient, with the consent of such minor may make a diagnostic examination for venereal disease, pregnancy, alcohol or other drug abuse or addiction and may advise, prescribe for and treat such minor regarding venereal disease, alcohol and other drug abuse or addiction, contraception, pregnancy or childbirth, all without the consent of or notification to the parent, parents, or guardian of such minor patient, or to any other person having custody of such minor patient. Treatment under this section does not include inducing of an abortion or performance of a sterilization operation. In any such case, the physician shall incur no civil or criminal liability by reason of having made such diagnostic examination or rendered such treatment, but such immunity shall not apply to any negligent acts or omissions.

(2) Any physician may provide outpatient mental health counseling to any child age sixteen (16) or older upon request of such child without the consent of a parent, parents, or guardian of such child.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, and without limiting cases in which consent may be otherwise obtained or is not required, any emancipated minor or any minor who has contracted a lawful marriage or borne a child may give consent to the furnishing of hospital, medical, dental or surgical care to his or her child or himself or herself and such consent shall not be subject to disaffirmance because of minority. The consent of the parent or parents of such married or emancipated minor shall not be necessary in order to authorize such care. For the purpose of this section only, a subsequent judgment of annulment of marriage or judgment of divorce shall not deprive the minor of his adult status once obtained. The provider of care may look only to the minor or spouse for payment for services under this section unless other persons specifically agree to assume the cost.

(4) Medical, dental, and other health services may be rendered to minors of any age without the consent of a parent or legal guardian when, in the professional's judgment, the risk to the minor's life or health is of such a nature that treatment should be given without delay and the requirement of consent would result in delay or denial of treatment.

(5) The consent of a minor who represents that he may give effective consent for the purpose of receiving medical, dental, or other health services but who may not in fact do so, shall be deemed effective without the consent of the minor's parent or legal guardian, if the person rendering the service relied in good faith upon the representations of the minor.

(6) The professional may inform the parent or legal guardian of the minor patient of any treatment given or needed where, in the judgment of the professional, informing the parent or guardian would benefit the health of the minor patient.

(7) Except as otherwise provided in this section, parents, the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~, or any other custodian or guardian of a minor shall not be financially responsible for services rendered under this section unless they are essential for the preservation of the health of the minor.

(2) All information, records and reports in the possession of local health departments or the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ and which concern persons infected with or suspected of being infected with or tested for or identified in an epidemiologic investigation for sexually transmitted disease are hereby declared to be strictly confidential and only personnel of local health departments and the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ who are assigned to sexually transmitted disease control activities shall have access to such information, records and reports.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing:

(a) The release of medical information to the physician retained by the person infected with or suspected of being infected with a sexually transmitted disease;

The attending physician shall, in turn, notify the patient of the test results. The patient or next of kin shall indicate notification of receipt of the test results and any offer of treatment or referral to another health care provider on a form provided by the health facility or health service and approved by the Cabinet for Health Services[~~Human Resources~~].

The cancer patient data management system shall be administered by the Lucille Parker Markey Cancer Center.

(2) Each licensed health facility which provides diagnostic services, or diagnostic services and treatment, or treatment to cancer patients shall report to the Kentucky Cancer Registry, through the cancer patient data management system and in a format prescribed by the Kentucky Cancer Registry, each case of cancer seen at that health facility. The planning shall include collecting information from the facilities and programs which educate and train the licensed professionals affected by the licensure requirements of those sections listed above and shall also include developing administrative regulations for the implementation of the licensure requirements.

(2) The Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~ shall develop instructional material on the human immunodeficiency virus, including information related to methods of transmission, education, and infection control. The materials developed under this section shall be provided to persons licensed under KRS Chapters 317 and 317A. Costs of production and distribution of the instructional materials shall be wholly assumed from the fees assessed by the licensing boards which regulate the professionals who are provided with educational materials under this section. Section 413. KRS 214.625 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The General Assembly finds that the use of tests designed to reveal a condition indicative of human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) infection can be a valuable tool in protecting the public health. The General Assembly finds that despite current scientific knowledge that zidovudine (AZT) prolongs the lives of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome victims, and may also be effective when introduced in the early stages of human immunodeficiency virus infection, many members of the public are deterred from seeking testing because they misunderstand the nature of the test or fear that test results will be disclosed without their consent. The General Assembly finds that the public health will be served by facilitating informed, voluntary, and confidential use of tests designed to detect human immunodeficiency virus infection.

(2) A person who has signed a general consent form for the performance of medical procedures and tests, is not required to also sign or be presented with a specific consent form relating to medical procedures or tests to determine human immunodeficiency virus infection, antibodies to human immunodeficiency virus, or infection with any other causative agent of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome that will be performed on the person during the time in which the general consent form is in effect. However, a general consent form shall instruct the patient that, as part of the medical procedures or tests, the patient may be tested for human immunodeficiency virus infection, hepatitis, or any other blood-borne infectious disease if a doctor orders the test for diagnostic purposes. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5)(c) of this section, the results of a test or procedure to determine human immunodeficiency virus infection, antibodies to human immunodeficiency virus, or infection with any probable causative agent of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome performed under the authorization of a general consent form shall be used only for diagnostic or other purposes directly related to medical treatment.

(3) In any emergency situation where informed consent of the patient cannot reasonably be obtained before providing health care services, there is no requirement that a health care provider obtain a previous informed consent.

(4) The physician who orders the test pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section, or the attending physician, shall be responsible for informing the patient of the results of the test if the test results are positive for human immunodeficiency virus infection. If the tests are positive, the physician shall also be responsible for either:

(a) Providing information and counseling to the patient concerning his infection or diagnosis and the known medical implications of such status or condition; or

(b) Referring the patient to another appropriate professional or health care facility for the information and counseling.

(5) (a) No person in this state shall perform a test designed to identify the human immunodeficiency virus, or its antigen or antibody, without first obtaining the informed consent of the person upon whom the test is being performed, except as specified in subsections (2) and (3) of this section.

(b) No test result shall be determined as positive, and no positive test result shall be revealed to any person, without corroborating or confirmatory tests being conducted.

(c) No person, who has obtained or has knowledge of a test result pursuant to this section, shall disclose or be compelled to disclose the identity of any person upon whom a test is performed, or the results of the test in a manner which permits identification of the subject of the test, except to the following persons:

1. The subject of the test or the subject's legally authorized representative;

2. Any person designated in a legally effective release of the test results executed prior to or after the test by the subject of the test or the subject's legally authorized representative;

3. A physician, nurse, or other health care personnel who has a legitimate need to know the test result in order to provide for his protection and to provide for the patient's health and welfare;

4. Health care providers consulting between themselves or with health care facilities to determine diagnosis and treatment;

5. The cabinet, in accordance with rules for reporting and controlling the spread of disease, as otherwise provided by state law;

6. A health facility or health care provider which procures, processes, distributes, or uses:

a. A human body part from a deceased person, with respect to medical information regarding that person; or

b. Semen provided prior to July 13, 1990, for the purpose of artificial insemination;

7. Health facility staff committees, for the purposes of conducting program monitoring, program evaluation, or service reviews;

8. Authorized medical or epidemiological researchers who shall not further disclose any identifying characteristics or information;

9. A parent, foster parent, or legal guardian of a minor; a crime victim; or a person specified in KRS 438.250;

10. A person allowed access by a court order which is issued in compliance with the following provisions:

a. No court of this state shall issue an order to permit access to a test for human immunodeficiency virus performed in a medical or public health setting to any person not authorized by this section or by KRS 214.420. A court may order an individual to be tested for human immunodeficiency virus only if the person seeking the test results has demonstrated a compelling need for the test results which cannot be accommodated by other means. In assessing compelling need, the court shall weigh the need for testing and disclosure against the privacy interest of the test subject and the public interest which may be disserved by disclosure which deters blood, organ, and semen donation and future human immunodeficiency virus-related testing or which may lead to discrimination. This paragraph shall not apply to blood bank donor records;

b. Pleadings pertaining to disclosure of test results shall substitute a pseudonym for the true name of the subject of the test. The disclosure to the parties of the subject's true name shall be communicated confidentially, in documents not filed with the court;

c. Before granting any order, the court shall provide the individual whose test result is in question with notice and a reasonable opportunity to participate in the proceedings if he is not already a party;

This section applies to all life and health insurance contracts which are delivered or issued for delivery in Kentucky on or after July 13, 1990.

Only a test which is recommended by the Centers for Disease Control or by the Food and Drug Administration is deemed to be reliable for the purposes of this section. If a specific Centers for Disease Control or Food and Drug Administration recommended test indicates the existence or possible existence of human immunodeficiency virus infection or a health condition related to the human immunodeficiency virus infection, before relying on a single test to deny issuance of an insurance contract, limit coverage under an insurance contract, or to establish the premium for an insurance contract, the insurer shall follow the applicable Centers for Disease Control or Food and Drug Administration recommended test protocol and shall utilize any applicable Centers for Disease Control or Food and Drug Administration recommended follow-up tests or series of tests to confirm the indication.

(b) Prior to testing, the insurer shall disclose in writing its intent to test the applicant for the human immunodeficiency virus infection or for a specific health condition derived therefrom and shall obtain the applicant's written informed consent to administer the test. Written informed consent shall include a fair explanation of the test, including its purpose, potential uses and limitations, the meaning of its results, and the right to confidential treatment of information. 3. The benefits of locating and counseling any person by whom the infected person may have been exposed to human immunodeficiency virus and any person whom the infected person may have exposed to the virus; and
4. The availability, if any, of the services of public health authorities with respect to locating and counseling any person described in subparagraph 3 of this paragraph.

(d) A medical test for human immunodeficiency virus infection or for a health condition derived from the infection shall only be required or given to an applicant for an insurance contract on the basis of the applicant's health condition or health history, on the basis of the amount of insurance applied for, or if the test is required of all applicants.

(e) An insurer may ask whether an applicant for an insurance contract has been tested positive for human immunodeficiency virus infection or other health conditions derived from such infection. Insurers shall not inquire whether the applicant has been tested for or has received a negative result from a specific test for human immunodeficiency virus infection or for a health condition derived from such infection.

(f) Insurers shall maintain strict confidentiality of the results of tests for human immunodeficiency virus infection or a specific health condition derived from human immunodeficiency virus infection. Information regarding specific test results shall be disclosed only as required by law or pursuant to a written request or authorization by the applicant. Insurers may disclose results pursuant to a specific written request only to the following persons:

1. The applicant;
2. A licensed physician or other person designated by the applicant;
3. An insurance medical information exchange under procedures that are used to assure confidentiality, such as the use of general codes that also cover results of tests for other diseases or conditions not related to human immunodeficiency virus infection;

5. Reinsurers, contractually retained medical personnel, and insurer affiliates if these entities are involved solely in the underwriting process and under procedures that are designed to assure confidentiality;

(g) Insurers shall use for the processing of human immunodeficiency virus related tests only those laboratories that are certified by the United States Department of Health and Human Services under the Clinical Laboratory Improvement Act of 1967, which permit testing of specimens in interstate commerce, and which subject themselves to ongoing proficiency testing by the College of American Pathologists, the American Association of Bio Analysts, or an equivalent program approved by the Centers for Disease Control.

(5) (a) An insurance contract shall not exclude coverage for human immunodeficiency virus infection. An insurance contract shall not contain benefit provisions, terms, or conditions which apply to human immunodeficiency virus infection in a different manner than those which apply to any other health condition. Insurance contracts which violate this paragraph shall be disapproved by the commissioner pursuant to KRS 304.14-130(1)(a), 304.32-160, 304.38-050, and 304.43-030.

(b) A health insurance contract shall not be canceled or nonrenewed solely because a person or persons covered by the contract has been diagnosed as having or has been treated for human immunodeficiency virus infection.

(c) Sexual orientation shall not be used in the underwriting process or in the determination of which applicants shall be tested for exposure to the human immunodeficiency virus infection. Neither the marital status, the living arrangements, the occupation, the gender, the beneficiary designation, nor the zip code or other territorial classification of an applicant's sexual orientation.

(4) "Extraordinary" as used in this section shall be determined by the court in its discretion.

(5) When a party has defaulted or the court is otherwise presented with insufficient evidence to determine gross income, the court shall order child support based upon the needs of the child or the previous standard of living of the child, whichever is greater. An order entered by default or due to insufficient evidence to determine gross income may be modified upward and arrearages awarded from the date of the original order if evidence of gross income is presented within two (2) years which would have established a higher amount of child support pursuant to the child support guidelines set forth in KRS 403.212.

(6) The court shall allocate between the parents, in proportion to their adjusted gross income, reasonable and necessary child care costs incurred due to employment, job search, or education leading to employment, in addition to the amount ordered under the child support guidelines.

(7) (a) The court shall order the cost of health care of the child to be paid by either or both parents of the child regardless of who has physical custody. The court order shall include:

1. A judicial directive designating which parent shall have financial responsibility for providing health care for the dependent child, which shall include, but not be limited to, insurance coverage, payments of necessary health care deductibles or copayments; and

2. A statement providing that if the designated parent's health care coverage provides for covered services for dependent children beyond the age of majority, then any unmarried children up to twenty-five (25) years of age who are full-time students enrolled in and attending an accredited educational institution and who are primarily dependent on the insured parent for maintenance and support shall be covered.

(b) If health care insurance coverage is not reasonable and available at the time the request for the coverage is made, the court order shall provide for health care insurance coverage at the time it becomes reasonable and available.

(8) The cost of extraordinary medical expenses shall be allocated between the parties in proportion to their adjusted gross incomes. "Extraordinary medical expenses" means uninsured expenses in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) per child per calendar year. "Extraordinary medical expenses" includes, but is not limited to, the costs that are reasonably necessary for medical, surgical, dental, orthodontal, optometric, nursing, and hospital services; for professional counseling or psychiatric therapy for diagnosed medical disorders; and for drugs and medical supplies, appliances, laboratory, diagnostic, and therapeutic services.

(9) In any case administered by the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~], if the parent ordered to provide health care coverage is enrolled through an insurer but fails to enroll the child under family coverage, the other parent or the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~] may, upon application, enroll the child.

Section 579. KRS 403.213 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The Kentucky child support guidelines may be used by the parent, custodian, or agency substantially contributing to the support of the child as the basis for periodic updates of child support obligations and for modification of child support orders for health care. The provisions of any decree respecting child support may be modified only as to installments accruing subsequent to the filing of the motion for modification and only upon a showing of a material change in circumstances that is substantial and continuing.

(2) Application of the Kentucky child support guidelines to the circumstances of the parties at the time of the filing of a motion or petition for modification of the child support order which results in equal to or greater than a fifteen percent (15%) change in the amount of support due per month shall be rebuttably presumed to be a material change in circumstances. Application which results in less than a fifteen percent (15%) change in the amount of support due per month shall be rebuttably presumed not to be a material change in circumstances. For the one (1) year period immediately following enactment of this statute, the presumption of material change shall be a twenty-five percent (25%) change in the amount of child support due rather than the fifteen percent (15%) stated above.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, provisions for the support of a child shall be terminated by emancipation of the child unless the child is a high school student when he reaches the age of eighteen (18). In cases where the child becomes emancipated because of age, but not due to marriage, while still a high school student, the court-ordered support shall continue while the child is a high school student, but not beyond completion of the school year during which the child reaches the age of nineteen (19) years. Provisions for the support of the child shall not be terminated by the death of a parent obligated to support the child. If a parent obligated to pay support dies, the amount of support may be modified, revoked, or commuted to a lump-sum payment, to the extent just and appropriate in the circumstances.

(4) The child support guidelines table shall be reviewed at least once every four (4) years by a commission consisting of the following persons:

(a) The secretary of the Cabinet for Families and Children~~[Human Resources]~~ or a supervisory staff person designated by him;

(b) Two (2) members of the Kentucky Bar Association who have at least six (6) consecutive years' experience and are presently practicing domestic relations cases, one (1) member from a metropolitan or large urban area and one (1) member from a less populated area;

(f) The Attorney General or his designee, who shall be an attorney from his office.

(5) The commission shall make a recommendation to the Kentucky General Assembly to ensure that the child support guidelines table results in a determination of appropriate child support amounts.

The policy shall include purpose statements; definitions; supervisory responsibilities; procedures for twenty-four (24) hour access to protective orders; procedures for enforcement of court orders or relief when protective orders are violated; procedures for timely and contemporaneous reporting of adult abuse and domestic violence to the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~], Department for Social Services; victim rights, assistance and service responsibilities; and duties related to timely completion of records. (4) If a law enforcement agency fails to submit a copy of the agency's written domestic violence policy in a timely manner, the secretary shall promptly notify the law enforcement agency in writing of the requirements contained in this section.

(5) If the secretary determines that a law enforcement agency has submitted a domestic violence policy which is inadequate, the secretary shall reject the policy and provide assistance to the agency in developing an adequate domestic violence policy.

Section 582. KRS 403.785 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Each law enforcement agency shall report all incidents of actual or suspected domestic violence and abuse within their knowledge to the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~], Department for Social Services, within forty-eight (48) hours of learning of the incident or of the suspected incident.

(2) When a law enforcement officer has reason to suspect that a family member, member of an unmarried couple, or household member has been the victim of domestic violence and abuse, the officer shall use all reasonable means to prevent further abuse, including but not limited to:

(a) Remaining at the location of the domestic violence and abuse so long as the officer reasonably suspects there is danger to the physical safety of individuals present without the presence of a law enforcement officer;

(b) Assisting the victim of domestic violence and abuse in obtaining medical treatment, including transporting the victim to the nearest medical facility capable of providing the necessary treatment; and

(c) Advising the victim immediately of the rights available to them, including the provisions of KRS 403.715 to 403.785.

Section 583. KRS 405.465 is amended to read as follows:

(1) This section shall apply only to those child support, medical support, maintenance, and medical support insurance orders that are established, modified, or enforced by the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~] or those court orders obtained in administering Part D, Title IV of the Federal Social Security Act.

(2) All child support orders and medical support insurance orders being established, modified, or enforced by the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~], or those orders obtained pursuant to the administration of Part D, Title IV of the Federal Social Security Act, shall provide for income withholding which shall begin immediately.

(3) The court shall order either or both parents who are obligated to pay child support, medical support, or maintenance under this section to assign to the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~] or the domestic relations clerk of the court or other officer designated by the court to receive the payment, that portion of salary or wages of the parent due and to be due in the future as will be sufficient to pay the child support amount ordered by the court.

(4) The order shall be binding upon the employer or any subsequent employer upon the service by certified mail of a copy of the order upon the employer and until further order of the court. The employer may deduct the sum of one dollar ($1) for each payment made pursuant to the order.

(5) The employer shall notify the cabinet when an employee, for whom a wage withholding is in effect, terminates employment and provide the terminated employee's last known address and the name and address of the terminated employee's new employer, if known.

(6) Any assignment made pursuant to court order shall have priority as against any attachment, execution or other assignment, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(7) No assignment under this section by an employee shall constitute grounds for dismissal of the obligor, refusal to employ, or taking disciplinary action against any obligor subject to withholding required by this section.

Section 584. KRS 405.467 is amended to read as follows:

(1) All support orders issued by the Cabinet for Families and Children~~[Human Resources]~~, including those issued pursuant to Part D, Title IV of the Federal Social Security Act, shall provide for immediate withholding of earnings of the parent or parents obligated to pay child support and medical support as is necessary to pay the child support obligation, except where one (1) of the parties demonstrates, and the court or administrative order finds that there is good cause not to require immediate income withholding, or a written agreement is reached by both parties which provides for an alternative arrangement.

(2) In any case in which a parent is required to pay court ordered or administratively determined child support, medical support, maintenance, and medical support insurance, wage withholding is not in effect, and an arrearage accrues that is equal to the amount of support payment for one (1) month, upon request of the absent parent, request of the custodial parent, or upon administrative determination, the secretary shall issue an order for withholding of earnings of the parent as is necessary to comply with the order plus interest at the legal rate on the arrearage, if any.

(3) In any case in which a parent is required either by court order or administrative order to provide medical insurance coverage for the child and the parent has failed to make application to obtain coverage for the child, the secretary shall issue an order for withholding of the employee's share, if any, of premiums for health coverage and to pay the share of premiums to the insurer.

(4) Advance notice shall be sent to the obligor prior to the issuance of the order to withhold earnings. The only basis for contesting the withholding shall be a mistake of fact or law. If the parent contests the withholding, the cabinet shall give the obligor an opportunity to present his or her case at an administrative hearing conducted in accordance with KRS Chapter 13B and decide if the withholding will occur, based on an evaluation of the facts within forty-five (45) days from the date of the advance notice. The cabinet shall notify the obligor of the decision of whether the withholding is to occur, the date on which it will begin, and shall furnish the obligor with the information contained in any order served on the employer with respect to the withholding.

(5) The cabinet shall combine any administrative or judicial wage withholding order, or multiple administrative or judicial orders for child support and medical support into a single wage withholding order when payable through the cabinet to a single family or to multiple family units.

(6) The cabinet shall serve the order to withhold earnings or notice of multiple wage withholding orders specifying wage withholding requirements on the employer of an obligor by certified mail, return receipt requested. The order shall state the amount to be withheld, or the requirement to enroll the child under the health insurance coverage, including amounts to be applied to arrearages, plus interest at the legal rate on the arrearage, if any, and the date the withholding is to begin. The total amount to be withheld, including current support and payment on arrearages plus interest, and medical insurance coverage may not exceed the limit permitted under the federal Consumer Credit Protection Act at 15 U.S.C. sec. 1673(b).

(7) If there is more than one (1) notice for child support withholding against a single absent parent, the cabinet shall allocate amounts available for withholding, giving priority to current child support, up to the limits imposed under Section 303(b) of the Consumer Credit Protection Act at 15 U.S.C. sec. 1673(b). The allocation by the cabinet shall not result in a withholding for one (1) of the support obligations not being implemented. Amounts resulting from wage withholding shall be allocated on a proportionate basis between multiple family units. Any custodial parent adversely affected by the provisions of this subsection shall have standing to challenge any proportionate allocations and, for good cause shown, a District Court, Circuit Court, or Family Court of competent jurisdiction may set aside the cabinet's proportional allocations as to the custodial parent.

(8) If the amounts to be withheld preclude collection of the total amount of combined child support and medical support due to the limits of the federal Consumer Credit Protection Act at 15 U.S.C. sec. 1673(b), the actual amount received shall be applied first to the current monthly child support obligation amount. Any payment exceeding the current monthly child support obligation shall then be applied by the cabinet to the administratively-ordered or judicially-ordered medical support obligation.

(9) The employer shall be held liable to the cabinet for any amount which the employer fails to withhold from earnings due an obligor following receipt of an order to withhold earnings.

(10) Any order to withhold earnings under this section shall have priority as against any attachment, execution, or other assignment, notwithstanding any state statute or administrative regulation to the contrary.

(11) No withholding under this section shall be grounds for discharging from employment, refusing to employ, or taking disciplinary action against any obligor subject to withholding required by this section.

(12) The remedies provided for in this section shall also be available for applicable support orders issued in other states.

(13) Interstate requests for withholding of earnings shall be processed by the cabinet.

Section 585. KRS 405.490 is amended to read as follows:

(3) The person in possession of obligor's property shall have no liability or further responsibility after fulfilling the duties under this section.

(4) The obligor may dispute the amount of delinquent support by requesting a dispute hearing with twenty (20) days.

(5) If the obligor does not request a hearing, acknowledgment of the obligation is presumed and the secretary may apply the withheld property to the delinquent child support obligation.

(6) If a hearing is requested, when property or a bond is released to the secretary pursuant to an order to withhold and deliver property, the secretary shall hold the property or bond, pending determination of the obligor's liability by a hearing officer, pursuant to KRS 405.450.

(7) Upon a decision adverse to the Cabinet for Families and Children[~~Human Resources~~] by a hearing officer, of the Circuit Court on appeal, the cabinet shall return the property together with interest at the legal rate for judgments.

(a) Avoid injurious or vicious habits;

(b) Avoid persons or places of disreputable or harmful character;

(c) Work faithfully at suitable employment as far as possible;

For good cause shown, the testing fee may be waived by the court.

(3) When imposing a sentence of probation or conditional discharge in a case where a victim of a crime has suffered monetary damage as a result of the crime due to his property having been converted, stolen, or unlawfully obtained, or its value substantially decreased as a result of the crime, or where the victim suffered actual medical expenses, direct out-of-pocket losses, or loss of earning as a direct result of the crime, or if as a direct result of the crime the victim incurred medical expenses that were paid by the Cabinet for Health Services~~[Human Resources]~~, the Crime Victims Compensation Board, or any other governmental entity, the court shall order the defendant to make restitution in addition to any other penalty provided for the commission of the offense. The court may, in lieu of ordering monetary restitution, order the defendant to make restitution by working for or on behalf of the victim. The court shall determine the number of hours of work necessary by applying the then prevailing federal minimum wage to the total amount of monetary damage caused by or incidental to the commission of the crime. The court may, with the consent of the agency, order the defendant to work as specified in KRS 533.070. Any work ordered pursuant to this section shall not be deemed employment for any purpose, nor shall the person performing the work be deemed an employee for any purpose. (e) The circuit clerk shall assess an additional fee of two percent (2%) to defray the administrative costs of collection of payments or property. This fee shall be paid by the defendant and shall enure to the general fund of the State Treasury;

(f) When a defendant fails to make restitution ordered to be paid through the circuit clerk, the circuit clerk shall notify the court. The court shall hold a hearing to determine if the defendant is in contempt of the court or has violated the terms of his probation; and

(g) An order of restitution shall not preclude the owner of property or the victim who suffered personal physical or mental injury or out-of-pocket loss of earnings or support or other damages from proceeding in a civil action to recover damages from the defendant. A civil verdict shall be reduced by the amount paid under the criminal restitution order.

(4) In addition to any other terms and conditions imposed under this section, the court may require the probationer, as a condition of his probation, to make one (1) payment to a crime stoppers organization in an amount not to exceed the amount of the reward paid by a crime stoppers organization, as defined by KRS 431.570, relative to the probationer.

The time actually spent in confinement or home incarceration pursuant to this provision shall not exceed six (6) months or the maximum term of imprisonment assessed pursuant to KRS Chapter 532, whichever is the shorter. Time spent in confinement or home incarceration under this subsection shall be credited against the maximum term of imprisonment assessed for the defendant pursuant to KRS Chapter 532, if probation or conditional discharge is revoked and the defendant is sentenced to imprisonment. Any prohibitions against probation, shock probation, or conditional discharge under KRS 533.060(2), or 532.045 shall not apply to persons convicted of a misdemeanor or Class D felony and sentenced to a period of confinement or home incarceration under this section.
